

Water as a Weapon

By Janet C. Phelan

In August of 2004, quietly and without fanfare, an article was published on Los Angeles Independent Media revealing a plan by the U.S. government to depopulate the country via the water system. The article alleged that the water system had been reconfigured country-wide so as to function as a finely honed targeting system, which, when deployed, would selectively target individual homes with undrinkable, or “death” water. The article alleged that this had been accomplished by the construction of a complex system of double lines and mixing capabilities on the main lines. In this manner, certain, pre-selected homes would receive the ordinary water while the targeted homes would receive the mixture. It is the contention of this reporter that the mixture will kill those imbibing the water. Nearly three years have passed since the publication of “Public Extermination Project.” New information has surfaced supporting these claims. In addition, this reporter has determined some errors in the initial report, which mandate correcting. A careful reading of Section 817 of the Patriot Act, “The Expansion of the Biological Weapons Statute,” reveals this to be the umbrella statute authorizing this project. While the wording of this statute is somewhat opaque, a diligent scrutiny of the language reveals its true intent. Firstly, 817 legalizes “delivery systems” and “toxins” under certain circumstances. “Delivery systems” is weapons terminology. “Toxins” are poisons. The statute details when these delivery systems and toxins will and will not be legal. Poisons, as we all know, are meant to terminate life. There is no mention in 817 of these poisons being utilized as any sort of legally sanctioned punishment for a crime, such as lethal injection. Rather, the statute states that these SHALL be legal when used for purposes determined as “peaceful, protective, prophylactic or bona fide research.” Setting aside the research clause, we are essentially seeing the legalizing of “peaceful, protective, prophylactic....” poisoning. We have thus essentially bypassed any necessity for due process and have authorized the use of poisons to kill. A dissection of the part of this statute which lists the “restricted persons,” who are disallowed from possessing or transporting these delivery systems and toxins, indicates that this statute is not authorizing a military operation. We can therefore infer that 817 is NOT authorizing the use of poisons in warfare against an enemy of the U.S.A. So who are the intended recipients of this biological warfare, authorized in this statute? If not an enemy of this country, could it be segments of the U.S. population? We have seen in our country, since 911, the stripping of civil rights that historically accompanies the rise of fascism. Our vote seems to have gone the way of Diebold, and can now be electronically finessed by those who seek to cement their continued governing power. Our privacy rights have been crushed by the “national emergency” that the attacks of 911 established as an ongoing national predicament. Most newspaper editors will acknowledge, at least in private conversation, that they believe See ‘WATER’ phone lines to Continued on Page 8

China Threatens War Escalation Over Bush Handshake

Top news story in China ignored in U.S.; Beijing furious about warming of American-Taiwanese relations

The Americans Bulletin Reporter Vanessa Fimbres

In an astounding development that has completely failed to register any attention amongst mainstream U.S. media, China promised to escalate preparations for war in advance of a potential conflict, after President Bush shook hands with a Taiwanese government official yesterday. Bush shook hands and met with Taiwan’s representative to the United States, Joseph Wu, on Tuesday, during a commemoration for victims of Communism in Washington DC. In a headline story that aired at 10pm Shanghai time Wednesday night on the Hong Kong based PHTV news channel, Chinese government leaders threatened to plan new war games and heighten military readiness in anticipation of any attempt by the U.S. to defend Taiwan should a Chinese invasion occur, or simply if Taiwan declares its independence. According to the news station, Taiwanese media were manipulating the handshake for their own geopolitical agenda. Officials expressed stern-faced concern and spoke of dire consequences during a press conference as China made clear its fury that Bush had even chosen to acknowledge Wu’s visit. “We insist to keep the current peaceful relations as we promised Taiwan’s citizens. We have prepared to stop (prohibit) any activities, conduct and any excuses to divide Taiwan away from China in whatever cause, the activities are going to cause serious harm. Chenshuibian’s (President of Taiwan) conspiracy of an independent Taiwan causes serious harm in our peaceful relations. We will resort to military action if they continue these irresponsible actions,” said Chinese Foreign Ministry Spokesman Yang Li. (rough translation). The news anchor noted that the handshake heralded a change of direction in the Bush administration’s approach to Taiwan, with the U.S. government having previously backed away from its resolve to defend Taiwan should an invasion occur, as its treaty with the country dictates. If anything’s for sure, it’s the fact that See ‘CHINA’ China, unlike Continued on Page 5

Somebody’s Watching Over You

A convicted felon turns cameras on the cops, putting a balance of power, he says, back in the hands of the people.

BY KEVIN SITES
“I raise my fist because I want that justice; don’t get my freedom, gonna have to take my freedom.” — Sherman Austin, from his song “Raise the Fist”

LOS ANGELES - On May Day, 2007, the Los Angeles police made front page news after clashing with protesters in a public park. Images of baton-wielding officers and cowering protesters, journalists among them, renewed an angry debate over police brutality in a city still scarred by the memory of the Rodney King beating. Sherman Austin says his own run-ins with the police led him to start Cop Watch.

Citizen video has left an indelible mark on Los Angeles. The King video is the best-known example, but far from the only one. In 2002, a tourist filmed 16-year-old Donovan Jackson being punched and slammed against a police cruiser in Inglewood. Last year, a UCLA student taped an incident in which another student was hit by a stun gun at a school library. The video spread quickly across the Internet. “This type of stuff happens every day in L.A.,” says Sherman Austin, founder of Cop Watch LA, an activist group that was quick to post images and clips of the May Day incident. “It’s just a coincidence sometimes there’s a video camera around to videotape.” The LAPD disagrees, contending that the average person doesn’t always consider the situation that led to the police confrontation in the first place. A spokesperson for the department says the LAPD averages 1.2 uses of force per 100 arrests, which he claims is one of the lowest in the country. Tools of the trade Cop Watch LA received wide attention last year when it posted a video of an alleged gang member being punched in the face by one LAPD officer while another officer knelt on his throat. The disturbing video has been viewed more than 100,000 times on YouTube and Cop Watch LA’s site. Ironically, Austin’s tool of choice, the See ‘WATCHING’ Continued on Page 5

The Root of Our Foundation

By American's Bulletin
Reader Grey Fox

I have studied the 'Kingdom of Mammon' for the last 13 years. And in this pursuit to get to the root of it's tree I have found myself being held hostage, locked within the pits of 'Hell', a word whose origin dates back to ancient times for the dungeon/prison just below the 'Judgment Seat', where one was dropped into by the use of a hinged door in the floor as one stood before the Judge. The term 'go to hell' may have originated within the Feudal/Federal Temple Court.

I have studied the Bible all my life regarding the 'Kingdom of Heaven, along with the origins of religious thought that have roots that can be traced to Tammuz, and beyond to the time when the foundations of this temple was laid dating back to the Book of Genesis. (see Zech. 8:9-10)

I have developed a systematic process within the mechanics of studying to always look to the root or foundations from which a conclusion is supported or derived from.

It seems to me that most of the controversy that we are facing regarding the Federal imposition, is postured on a potpourri of diversified opinions to keep us focused in the branches of the tree of the 'Knowledge of Good and Evil', now called 'Prima Facie' law, a realm kept secret by the 'Law-of-the Forum', whose energy is sourced by lies under the cover of the 'United States Codes', which of itself speaks to it's secret nature, a 'codified' word game. A system of communication having special meanings to keep secret the way to the 'tree of life', by words confounded and twisted, a 'tongue of fire' which moves in all direction as a flaming sword, Genesis 3:24. A communication whose beginnings go back to Genesis 4:8, to Cain and Abel's controversy and where Abels death was blamed upon the 'Lawyers of this generation' as stated by (Jesus) Yahshua, Luke 11: 50 & 51.

I believe there has been a very deliberate effort sense 1933, to slowly cover up and to set aside the sovereignty of each state Republic, to where the only Constitution that is ever spoken of is the United States Constitution. I have spoken to many people regarding this issue, and most of then did not realize that the state they lived in had a Constitution, or a Supreme Court, much less a district court of appeals.

As a Citizen/Inhabitant in one of the Republic states, the U.S. Constitution protects all the States within the United States of America; we have unalienable rights protected under the state Republic Constitution. As such my/our conduct, activity, duty and restrictions come under state l a w as allowed by its Constitution. So it would seem to me that the Federal imposition by the use of the 'United States Codes' upon an inhabitant of a state Republic is only accomplished when Venue is waived. Because under Art. 1, Sec. 8, Cl. 17 and Rule 54(c), 'Acts of Congress' are restricted to the 10 miles square of the District of Columbia.

With that in mind, the use of 18 USC, 28 USC, 26 USC, 27 USC and 21 USC or any other United States Code, being applied to a private 'Person' or 'We the People' of a state' Republic' is an action in violation of 3 sovereign initiatives, the U.S. of America Const. and the private United States Codes themselves and the state Republic.

According to Art.4,Sec.3,C1.2 and Art.3,Sec.2,C1.2, "... Congress shall have Power to dispose of and make all needful Rules & Regulations respecting the Territory or other Property belonging to the United States ..." This would also make it important to file a UCC-1 on your NAME/Property with your state Republic as an 'Organization' having a Secured Party interest as an association of unincorporated 'organs'. (see BLD. 4th Ed. 'Constitution law')

Art.3,Sec.2,Cl.2 regarding the Court, states "... the judicial power shall extend to all Cases, in Law & Equity, arising under this Constitution, the Laws of the United States (USC's)... both as to Law & Fact,... under such 'Regulations' as the Congress shall make."

In light of the above the use of a 'Code' to support a controversy on an indictment is without any Constitutional Authority from Congress, being absent of a Regulation.

It seems that it is at this stage of legal process that ones understanding regarding his status becomes blurred. Ask yourself, am I a 'citizen of the United States' or a 'Private Citizen of a state Republic'. A 'citizen of the United States' is defined in 26 CFR 31.3121(e)-1(b) as being a citizen of Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Guam and the American Samoa.

If you are not one of the above why would you go into a United States District Court in a state Republic for a remedy when that Court is not recognized-as a 'court of the United States' as defined in 18USC Section 23, which only includes the District Court of Guam, the District Court for the Northern Mariana Islands, and the District Court of the Virgins Islands.

So if you are a 'Citizen in a state Republic', why wouldn't you petition the 'district court of appeals' in your state for injunctive relief, with either a Habeas Corpus, Mandamus or other appropriate writ as allowed by your state Constitution against the foreign Federal intrusion.

I believe that our failure to understand that the law of the land is protected by ones 'state' Constitution, under the oversight of it's judiciary and the Supreme Court of the State Republic, has left us victims of a system of justice, by it's own admission is a criminal system of justice.

This I believe gets us to the root of our problem and our solution regarding the Federal imposition. The Supreme Court of the state is the Supreme Court of the Land/Republic, and the 'district court' in the county is a 'court of appeals' over ALL courts within the state, when Constitutional protections have been violated. I believe your state Constitution will support this conclusion.

Editor's Note: My only question is are we or are we not still operating under a state of declared national emergency and are the courts constitutional. If we are under Marshall Law/Declared emergency, which seems to be the case, than we are already operating under emergency and not constitutional law. The Oregon Supreme Court refused to answer the question that is was/is a Court of Constitutional due Process.

BUSH PREPARES MARTIAL LAW

World War 4 Report, NY - May 24, 2007
The "National Security and Homeland Security Presidential Directive," with the dual designation of NSPD-51, as a National Security Presidential Directive, ...

Every president since FDR has drawn up such plans. The most notorious were Nixon's "Operation Garden Plot" and Reagan's "REX 84 Alpha"—a legacy we recalled when the Homeland Security Act passed in 2002. This latest incarnation has gone unnoticed by the New York Times and other major media. Leave it to the editorial page of Tennessee's Chattanooga, May 24:

Bush Makes Power Grab President Bush, without so much as issuing a press statement, on May 9 signed a directive that granted near dictatorial powers to the office of the president in the event of a national emergency declared by the president.

The "National Security and Homeland Security Presidential Directive," with the dual designation of NSPD-51, as a National Security Presidential Directive, and HSPD-20, as a Homeland Security Presidential Directive, establishes under the office of president a new National Continuity Coordinator.

That job, as the document describes, is to make plans for "National Essential Functions" of all federal, state, local, territorial, and tribal governments, as well as private sector organizations to continue functioning under the president's directives in the event of a national emergency.

The directive loosely defines "catastrophic emergency" as "any incident, regardless of location, that results in extraordinary levels of mass casualties, damage, or disruption severely affecting the U.S. population, infrastructure, environment, economy, or government functions."

When the President determines a catastrophic emergency has occurred, the President can take over all government functions and direct all private sector activities to ensure we will emerge from the emergency with an "enduring constitutional government."

Translated into layman's terms, when the President determines a national emergency has occurred, the President can declare to the office of the presidency powers usually assumed by dictators to direct any and all government and business activities until the emergency is declared over.

Ironically, the directive sees no contradiction in the assumption of dictatorial powers by the President with the goal of maintaining constitutional continuity through an emergency.

The directive specifies that the assistant to the President for Homeland Security and Counterterrorism will be designated as the National Continuity Coordinator. Further established is a Continuity Policy Coordination Committee, chaired by a senior director from the Homeland Security Council staff, designated by the National Continuity Coordinator, to be "the main day-to-day forum for such policy coordination."

Currently, the assistant to the president for Homeland Security and Counterterrorism is Frances Fragos Townsend. Townsend spent 13 years at the Justice Department before moving to the U.S. Coast Guard where she served as assistant commandant for intelligence. She is a White House staff member in the executive office of the president who also chairs the Homeland Security Council, which as a counterpart to the National Security Council reports directly to the president.

The directive issued May 9 makes no attempt to reconcile the powers created there for the National Continuity Coordinator with the National Emergency Act. As specified by U.S. Code Title 50, Chapter 34, Subchapter II, Section 1621, the National Emergency Act allows that the president may declare a national emergency but requires that such proclamation "shall immediately be transmitted to the Congress and published in the Federal Register."

A Congressional Research Service study notes that under the National Emergency Act, the President "may seize property, organize and control the means of production, seize commodities, assign military forces abroad, institute

THE SOVEREIGN CHRONICLES

A look into what is sovereignty?

By ISA

It seems that only in the Freedom Movement has there ever been an interest into the word ‘sovereignty’ as to its meaning, understanding and certainly... any application to a man or woman concerned about their Rights and situations they see or have experienced in this country.

Sovereignty is generally unknown to the people today, especially those outside of the Freedom Movement. Can it be said that ‘they’ have no interest in their freedom, merely doing what they are told in an Orellian society? The subject of ‘sovereignty’ is certainly not taught in government schools, churches, or is the subject found socialist newspapers, except only as used to demean the word as applied to anti-government types. Its just what they do.

Sovereignty was and is bestowed upon the people by their Creator, recognized by the government created by the people. The people are the author and authority over government. It’s also just the way it is!

The government did not create the Creator and bind him to their jurisdiction, and then did the same in respect to the people, so that within the hierarchy, government is on top. It never happened that way.

Government cannot and never has granted Rights. The Constitutions do not grant Rights. They can only secure and protect the God-given Rights of the people. Ah’, but that’s the question!

The Declaration of Independence states that the people be “...guaranteed the Right of Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness...”

The appearance is that the ‘guarantee’ has been breached, the flood of socialism, deprivation, unlawful taking of property, unlawful taxation, subjection to rules, codes, statutes, permits, licenses, the police-state mentality of treating the people as mere ‘slaves’ on a plantation. And it’s been much easier for more restrictions, limitations and implementation of policies to further bind the people down under the thumb of government due to 9-11 and the ‘un-read’ Patriot Acts I & II. Remember; “Let me see your papers, sit down, shut up!”

In respect to your Right of Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness, let’s presume that that you have a piece of property with a home on it. You perceived that you had/have a right to buy a home. You determined that it would better your Life and you deemed that it would make you and your family happy to live your American dream.

In light of the U.S. Bankruptcy, all property of the people was pledged to financially support the then and now ‘Corporate-De facto Bankrupt’ government corporations!

The ultimate ownership of all property is in the State; individual so-called "ownership" is only by virtue of Government, i.e., law, amounting to mere user; and use must be in accordance with law and subordinate to the necessities of the State.’

— Senate

Document # 43; SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 62 (Pg 9, Para 2) April 17, 1933.

So, here you are now in your house, though under a mortgage (a lien), the house has been attorned over to the State, property (use taxes) taxes imposed and if you do not pay the taxes, out you go and another slave is allowed in. And the same applies to your car, pick-up, motorcycle, airplane, and for that matter all property you think you own. Time and space does not allow us to go into the money issue as applied to the so-called purchase of the things you believe you own.

But a little basic history is needed to set the stage, so to speak.

The scriptures teach that the Israelite people are the ‘Kings and Priests of Israel’ and such declaration has not been nullified. The Israelite people settled in Northern Europe after the dispersion, then later, some came to settle in America.

Our so-called Revolutionary War was to sever ties with England and we were to become a free County with free people.

There are hints of our new found status of sovereignty, i.e., Wallace v Harmstad, 3 Harris 462, 1863; “I see no way of solving this question, except by determining whether our Pennsylvania titles are allodial or feudal... the Revolution (ary War) would have operated very inefficiently towards complete emancipation, if the feudal relation had been suffered to remain. We are then to regard the Revolution and these Acts of Assembly as emancipation every acre of the soil of Pennsylvania from the grand characteristics of the feudal system... and that by a title purely allodial. I conclude, therefore, that the state is lord paramount as to no man’s land.”

Therein developed the proposition that “A man is king in his own castle.” As such, kings do not pay taxes! Only slaves who do not own their land!

Padleford v City of Savannah.... Established the fact that; “But indeed, no private person has a right to complain, by suit in Court, on the ground of a breach of the Constitution. The Constitution, it is true, is a compact (contract), but he is not a party to it. The States are a party to it...” (emphasis added). Padelford, Fay & Co. vs. The Mayor and Alderman of the City of Savannah, 14 Ga. 438 (1854)

The Constitution is the compact that limits and restricts government of which they take an Oath to uphold, support and defend. All functions of government emanate from constitutional authority but yet it does not operate upon the private man.

Pursuant to Hale v Hinkle, 201 u.s. 43 @ pg. 74 (1905)... “The individual may stand upon his constitutional rights* as a citizen. He is entitled to carry on his private business in his own way. His power to contract is unlimited. He owes no duty to the State or to his neighbors to divulge his business; or to open his doors to an investigation so far as it may tend to criminate him. He owes no such duty to the State, since he receives nothing there-from, beyond the protection of his life and property. His rights are such as existed by the law of the land long antecedent to the organization of the State, and can only be taken from him by due process of law, and in accordance with the Constitution. He owes nothing to the public so long as he does not trespass upon their rights...”

*Note; the agent of government is to uphold and protect the 1st, 2nd, 4th, 5th Amendment, etc., per his Oath (mandated duty) not to violate said rights in his dealing with the people.

And... While points and concepts may seem strange, understand that it is Agreements with ‘government’ that is the entrapment to divest you away from your Rights and sovereignty. Example, Driver license is the evidence of the contract to the motor vehicle code to subject you to the code and fines! Applying for ‘benefits’ is just the same. You receive, they ‘government’ - control?

As to their statutes, pursuant to THE PEOPLE v. HERKIMER, Gentleman, one, &c – 4 Cowen 345; 1825 N.Y. LEXIS 80; “The people have succeeded to the rights of the King, the former sovereign of this State. They are not, therefore, bound by general words in a statute restrictive of prerogative, without being expressly named. E.g., the Insolvent Law.”

So the question might be, if I’m not a signatory to your Constitution, if I’m not a party to that social compact and if I’m not named in your statutes... (and not under any other agreement/benefit) how in the hell do you have jurisdiction over me? How does my ‘liability’ attach to your statutes? Remember, all you want to do is ask questions!

The Hierarchy of the Law? People over government, is quite simple. It’s the:

- 1) CREATOR
- 2) People
- 3) government

Sovereignty and How Does it Benefit Me?

By: Terry Robinson

Sovereignty is not something you sign up for, it’s not an exclusive club you join where you get benefits as a matter-of-fact, but rather, it is a way you choose to experience life. It is a state of mind. True sovereignty begins with your choice to be free, to be self-reliant and to take responsibility for your own actions.

You are born sovereign and then as you enter into various contracts, and private agreements, you unknowingly give up your sovereignty, little by little, until one day you wake up and realize you are a slave. So, stop accepting government issued benefits, or any so-called benefits that come with a hook to ensnare you into servitude and dependency and begin to reclaim your natural rights you inherit from God.

Strive to become financially independent. Get out of debt and stay out. Use your creative potential to make money instead of borrowing it from dishonest bankers. If it means lowering your standard of living temporarily so you can start living within your means, that will free your spirit to be more creative and eventually help you to achieve a higher and more fulfilling standard.

I really encourage you to become self-employed. Follow your passions, express your uniqueness in the marketplace and you’ll have the potential to make more money than you ever made before and have more time to spend on more important things in life. When you have more than enough money to support yourself and your family, without being a slave to an employer, or a bank, then you will have obtained financial sovereignty.

With adequate finances at your disposal you can be free to travel virtually anywhere on the planet, if you so choose. If a war breaks out, or if a conflict occurs, or say you get stuck in a natural disaster, you simply move away to someplace else that is more accommodating. If you don’t like the weather, with adequate finances you can chase your favorite seasons around the world.

For example, it’s Summer in the Southern Hemisphere when it’s Winter in the Northern Hemisphere. Or you can choose a variety of tropical destinations to go to year round. Freedom to choose your own weather is what I call climatic sovereignty.

Learn a second language or multiple languages, get second citizenship, expand to multiple nationalities, and residencies, explore the world and make it your playground and achieve global sovereignty.

When you stop relying on doctors to heal you and begin to get in touch with your own body and can learn to simply boost your immune system so your body can heal itself, then you will have achieved health sovereignty.

This may be a new concept for some people, but you do have a choice. Sickness starts as a disease of the emotional body or energy body, which exists outside the physical body as an energy distortion or blockage, and then if not dealt with will eventually manifest as a physical ailment, and if still not dealt with may become a chronic or terminal condition. If you have a bad attitude about life, don’t manage stress very well, and have lots of unresolved emotional issues then your immune system will be more taxed and your body more likely to be in a state of disease.

So, your health is your responsibility and once you fully decide to make it such, you will no longer be a sucker for the pharmaceutical companies who really have no desire to cure you of anything; and why should they when it is your responsibility to begin with.

Another important area is energy dependency. If you are like most people you have been lead to believe that you must run your car on gasoline or diesel, that you must buy electricity from the power company, and you must use heating oil, propane, or natural gas to heat your home. Once again, dependency on these fuels makes you a slave to them. Many viable alternatives already exist that you can employee to gain greater energy independence or energy sovereignty.

When you stop relying on others to tell you how to have a relationship with God and can go direct to God by whatever means you choose, without dogma, or power games, then that my friend is spiritual sovereignty.

Overall, sovereignty can take on many different shapes and sizes, but understand that sovereignty is not something you achieve once, only to forget about later — like hanging a college diploma on your wall to collect dust.

Sovereignty is a daily practice and ongoing responsibility of the highest magnitude... Every choice you make will help you foster greater sovereignty or greater servitude. This realization will help you to be miles ahead of the game as restrictions on your liberties increase to the degree that someday you won’t be able to use the toilet without first asking permission from Big Brother.

So consider this: What will you do when the day comes that in order buy food, fuel, medicine, see a doctor, borrow money, open a bank account, enter a federal building, board an airplane, train or cruise ship, etc. that your identity won’t first have to be verified through your driver’s license (Federal ID), your social security account number, a retina scan, and eventually a clever little microchip that will be implanted under your skin (for convenience and easy tracking, of course...)? Hopefully, it doesn’t come to that if you and the majority of everybody else simply says no and becomes more self-reliant.

So this is real... Your well-being, your freedom, your sovereignty, and your very future is your responsibility and it comes about by the choices you make starting today, not next week or next year. It must start today!

On Tax And Taxation

By: The Prior Of Zion

Let’s get one thing perfectly clear, if you have a taxable income, you are subject to the income tax and must pay tax on that income. § 1(a) [of the Internal Revenue Code] “There is here by imposed on the taxable income of... (a tax of varying percentages)”. But, and the question begs to be asked, what exactly is taxable income? The landmark case of the United States Supreme Court plainly states, Pacific -v- Lowe, 247 U.S. 330, (1918) “We must reject the broad contention submitted in behalf of the government that all receipts--everything that comes in--are income...”.

Now, “As a matter of fact and law,” says the attorney to a jury of the defendants “peers”, “...everyone knows that income is taxable and everyone must file and pay taxes!” After reading this eye-opener, it is the hope of the Prior of Zion that you, the reader, will know that more often than not, most people, including most attorneys, haven’t the first inkling that not only are the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) inapplicable to most Citizens of the American states, in fact they simply do not apply. Even more, by the time you finish reading this article, you will have in your possession the tools to defeat any of the IRC laws that may affect most American Citizen in the several states. But first, read the following and wrap your mind around the legal maxim that does indeed apply to everyone that is now reading this article.

“Inclusio unius est exclusio alterius.” Or, “The inclusion of one is the exclusion of another. The certain designation of one person is an absolute exclusion of all others. This doctrine decrees that where law expressly describes a particular situation to which it shall apply, an irrefutable inference must be drawn that what is omitted or excluded was intended to be omitted or excluded.” Black’s Law Dictionary, 6th edition. Even more, “The [state supreme] court also considered that the word ‘including’ was used as a word of enlargement, the learned court being of the opinion that such was its ordinary sense. With this we cannot concur.” U.S. Supreme Court, Montello Salt Co. -v- Utah, 221 U.S. 452 (1911). I mention the above word “includes” because of the misconception of 26 USC 7701 (10) “(10) State: The term “State” shall be construed to include the District of Columbia, where such construction this... even a plain sheet of paper, as long as it contains the information asked for. It is quite true that you cannot be penalized in any manner for not using the IRS Form 1040, but it does not relieve you of the obligation of filing a return, and it would be a blatantly stupid assumption to think otherwise. So, if you have a taxable income, as defined by the pertinent IRC, then you must file a return and pay the tax.

Getting back on course and the pertinent law and regulation concerning the PRA and the OMB. It is a given fact that the IRS must have a valid and current OMB number on the face of the Form 1040 and if it does not, you cannot be penalized in any manner for not using the Form 1040. But with a fair reading of 44 USC § 3507(a)(1)(C) and 5 CFR § 1320.5(a)(G) it states, “An agency [IRS] shall not conduct or sponsor the collection of information [request the filling out and filing of a 1040] unless in advance of the adoption or revision of the collection of information(1) the agency has- (C) submitted to the Director [of the OMB] ...COPIES OF THE PERTINENT STATUTORY AUTHORITY [authorizing the IRS to collect the information sought].” (Emphasis added) Okay reader, pay close attention to what the Prior of Zion has to say here! The IRS has failed to disclose any actual “Act of Congress” making anyone “LIABLE FOR A TAX” on (or the collection of information relevant to) PRIVATE (gross) RECEIPTS in whatever form received (such as assets, bonuses, commissions, funds, gifts, compensation, money, property, remuneration, salary, or wages) which people had gotten in exchanged for their own most precious and valuable assets, their own unique creativity, mental and/or physical labor, time, presence, and/or individually created and/or lawfully owned private property. If you do not understand this last statement, read it again and make very sure you understand what it says.

The IRS knows, or should know that, private (gross) receipts and “gross income” are two entirely different things. The Income Tax Act of Oct. 3, 1913, ch. 16, 38

Stat. 114, acknowledged that there was “income that was exempt from taxation by the fundamental law [the Constitution].” This statement was incorporated into the regulations implementing the 1939 IRC, in 26 CFR §§ 39.21-1 and 39.22(b). Even the current regulation, 26 CFR § 1.61-1, implementing § 61 of the 1986 IRC, recognizes this fact by stating, “Gross income. (a) General definition, Gross income means all income from whatever source derived, UNLESS EXCLUDED BY LAW. (Emphasis supplied). The internal revenue laws and the Internal Revenue Laws tax only “gross income” DERIVED FROM a SOURCE upon which a statute has imposed a tax pursuant to a taxing power granted by the Constitution.

In respect of the “Positive Law” entitled the “Paper Reduction Act” as amended in Public Law 104-13, § 4, 109 Stat. 195 and codified in Title 44 USCS §§ 3501 et seq. any agency of the government must submit a request to the OMB to be issued an OMB control number. The request is done on Standard Form 83 (SF-83) and on line five (5) of SF-83 it states “Legal authority for information collection or rule (cite United States Code, Public Law, or Executive Order). On the SF-83 that the IRS submitted to the OMB on June 26, 1986, on line five (5) the IRS entered 26 USC 6011 & 6012. On line twenty seven (27) SF-83 asks for the “Regulatory authority for the information collection” and the IRS entered 26 CFR 1.6011-1: 1.6012-1 thru 1.6012-1(a)(8). With a fair reading of Title 26 USC 6011

CLOSING COMMENTS

“ADDRESSING THE JURY - THE AMERICAN PEOPLE”

Note: These comments were presented at the Close of the Citizens’ Truth-In-Taxation Hearing. Washington D.C., February 27-28, 2002

Ladies and Gentlemen:

My name is Sherry Peel Jackson. I became a Certified Public Accountant in 1987, I was an Internal Revenue Agent in the Atlanta District for 7 years, and I became a Certified Fraud Examiner in 2001. I am here to summarize the tales of ignorance and deception that you have heard over the last two days and I am here to inform you of the state of the nation so that you may choose your next course of action.

You have heard the truth of how the Internal Revenue Service, Department of Justice, Federal Reserve and politicians have perpetuated this smoke and mirrors - dog and pony show on you the American people for over 88 years. You have heard of American families devastated by the invasion of privacy and unbridled fear placed upon them through threats of liens, levy’s and even jail time. In my tenure as an IRS agent, I personally saw marriages broken, families torn apart, homes confiscated and businesses destroyed - all while my colleagues and I were out making unjust demands on the American people - without the proper authority. Now, you be the judge. You have seen that Commissioner Charles Rosatti, Dan Bryant, the majority of our congressional delegation and other civil servants have refused to do their jobs. It would have been as simple as answering the questions of these well-educated researchers in a public forum, such as this one. But they have reneged, so you be the judge.

You have learned that the Constitution of the United States of America has been trampled on and ignored through allowing the privately owned Federal Reserve to create paper currency and charge you 47 million dollars in interest per hour - money coming from the mouths of your children and the college education funds of your grandchildren, all the while the children and grandchildren of the owners of the Federal Reserve will never have to work a day in their lives, and that is wrong, on so many different levels.

And let me tell you, that as a black woman I am keenly aware of the history of slavery. But do you understand that we are all slaves to this system? Do you understand that the media and Hollywood play a part keeping the American people so fixated on Alley McBeal, WWF Smackdown, Moeisha and the Practice that we don’t take time to read the Creature from Jekyll Island, study the Internal Revenue Code and learn the Constitution?

Now, let me spend just a minute to address my culture. Do you realize that the so called black leaders make millions of dollars every year playing the “us against them” role - keeping blacks focused on

Subject: New IRS Commissioner

Kevin M. Brown is serving as Acting IRS Commissioner, presiding over the nation’s tax administration system, which collects approximately $2.2 trillion in tax revenue that funds most government operations and public services. With over 100,000 employees and a budget of over $10 billion, the Commissioner’s role encompasses more than simply collecting individual and corporate taxes.

Mr. Brown has served as the IRS Deputy Commissioner for Services and Enforcement since 2006. In this role, he provides the direction and oversight for all major decisions affecting the four taxpayer-focused divisions: Wage and Investment, Large and Mid-Size Business, Small Business/Self-Employed, and Tax Exempt and Government Entities. He also provides the executive direction and leadership for the IRS Criminal Investigation Division, which investigates income tax evasion and related financial crimes; the IRS Office of Professional Responsibility, which administers the laws and regulations governing the practice of tax professionals before the IRS; and the new IRS Whistleblower Office, which will receive information on tax cheating and provide appropriate rewards to whistleblowers.

Previously, Mr. Brown was Commissioner, Small Business/Self-Employed (SB/SE) Division, an organization that serves 45 million taxpayers who file personal, corporate, employment, excise, and estate and gift tax returns.

From 2003 to 2004, Mr. Brown served as the Chief of Staff for IRS Commissioner Everson, assisting with all aspects of the daily operation of the IRS. From 2000 to 2003, he was Division Counsel (SB/SE), Office of Chief Counsel, where he served as the principal legal advisor to the Commissioner for SB/SE and oversaw virtually all of the IRS’ Tax Court litigation.

Mr. Brown served as an Assistant to Commissioner Charles O. Rossotti beginning in March 1998, where he helped draft legislation for the IRS Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998. He facilitated a comprehensive review of the IRS Criminal Investigation Division, and provided advice and counsel on a broad range of operational issues and technical legal guidance.

Before joining the IRS, Mr. Brown worked at the Department of Justice as an attorney in the Tax Division’s Appellate Section from 1987 through 1996, and served as Counsel to the Assistant Attorney General for Appellate Matters from 1996 through 1998. He received his J.D. from Boston College Law School in 1987 and his B.A. from Hamilton College in 1983. He is a member of the bar in Massachusetts and the District of Columbia.

BENNETT v. ARKANSAS
CERTIORARI TO THE
SUPREME COURT OF ARKANSAS
No. 86-6124.
Argued March 2, 1988
Decided March 29, 1988

Relying on an Arkansas statute authorizing the State to seize a prisoner's property, including his Social Security benefits, in order to help defray the cost of maintaining its prison system, Arkansas filed suit in state court to attach petitioner's Social Security benefits. The trial court directed that a portion of petitioner's benefits be seized, rejecting his argument that the state law violates the Supremacy Clause of the Federal Constitution because it permits the State to attach funds that are exempt from legal process under 42 U.S.C. 407(a). The Supreme Court of Arkansas affirmed, holding that there is no conflict between the state and federal statutes because 407(a) contains an "implied exception to exemption from legal process" when a State provides for a Social Security recipient's care and maintenance.

Held:

The Arkansas statute violates the Supremacy Clause. There is no "implied exception" to the express language of 407(a) and its clear intent that Social Security benefits not be attachable, even though the State provides for all of petitioner's needs. The State is not a statutorily intended beneficiary of petitioner's Social Security benefits. Rose v. Rose, -484 US 619, distinguished.

290 Ark. 47, 716 S. W. 2d 755, reversed.

Thomas M. Carpenter, by appointment of the Court, 484 US 921 , argued the cause for petitioner. With him on the brief were Charles L. Carpenter and Charles L. Carpenter, Jr.

Richard J. Lazarus argued the cause for the United States as amicus curiae urging reversal. On the brief were Solicitor General Fried, Assistant Attorney General Willard, Deputy Solicitor General Merrill, Charles A. Rothfeld, John F. Cordes, and John P. Schnitker.

J. Steven Clark, Attorney General of Arkansas, argued the cause for respondent. With him on the brief was Clint Miller, Assistant Attorney General. *

[Footnote*] Michael John Mirra and Robert A Stalker filed a brief for Lawrence McDowell as amicus curiae urging reversal. [485 US 395. 396]

PER CURIAM.

This case involves an attempt by the State of Arkansas to attach certain federal benefits paid to individuals who are incarcerated in Arkansas prisons. In 1981, Arkansas adopted the State Prison Inmate Care and Custody Reimbursement Act, Ark. Stat. Ann. 46-1701 et seq. (Supp. 1985), a statute that authorizes the State to seize a prisoner's property- or "estate" in order to help defray the cost of maintaining its prison system. The Act specifically defines "estate" to include a prisoner's federal Social Security benefits, as well as other types of pension or retirement benefits. 46-1702 (d). 1 The State filed separate actions in state court seeking to attach Social Security benefits that had been paid to petitioner Bennett and Veterans' Administration (VA) disability pension benefits that were paid to another inmate. Shelton. In relevant part, the inmates responded by arguing that the Arkansas statute violates the Supremacy Clause of the Federal Constitution because it permits the State to attach funds that federal law exempts from legal process. In particular, petitioner pointed to 42 U.S.C. 407(a) (1982 ed., Supp. III), which provides that "none of the moneys paid or payable ... under [the Social Security Act] shall be subject to execution, levy, attachment, garnishment, or other legal process." Similarly, Shelton contended that attachment of his VA benefits is inconsistent with 38 U.S.C. 3101(a), which provides that such benefits "shall be exempt from the claim of creditors, and shall not be liable to attachment, levy, or seizure by or [485 US 395, 397] under any legal or equitable process whatever, either before or after receipt by the beneficiary."

The state trial court rejected the inmates' arguments and directed that a portion of each of their benefits be seized. The Supreme Court of Arkansas affirmed, with one justice dissenting. 290 Ark. 47, 716 S. W. 2d 755 (1986). Briefly stated, the court found that there is no conflict between the federal and state statutes because "the federal statutes contain an implied exception to the exemption from legal process when the State provides for the care and maintenance of a beneficiary of social security or veterans' funds." Id., at 49, 716 S. W. 2d, at 756. We granted Bennett's petition for certiorari. 484 US 895 (1987).

We think contrary to the conclusion of the Supreme Court of Arkansas that there is a clear inconsistency between the Arkansas statute and 42 U.S.C. 407(a) (1982 ed., Supp. III). Section 407(a) unambiguously rules out any attempt to attach Social Security benefits. The Arkansas statute just as unambiguously allows the State to attach those benefits. As we see it, this amounts to a "conflict" under the Supremacy Clause - a conflict that the State cannot win. See Rose v. Arkansas State Police, 497 US 1 (1986). We reject the State's attempt to avoid this conclusion by arguing that the federal statute contains an "implied exception" that would allow attachment of otherwise exempted federal payments simply because the State has provided the recipient with "care and maintenance." We declined to find such an exception in Philpott v. Essex County Welfare Board, 409 US 413 (1973), where we held that 407 bars a State from attempting to attach Social Security benefits as reimbursement for state welfare assistance payments. [485 US 395, to his failure to file an affidavit to accompany his motion to proceed in forma pauper-is. See this Court's Rule 46.1. Accordingly the only issue directly before us is the propriety of the State's attempt to attach Bennett's Social Security benefits. [485 US 395, 399]

US Solider Uniform

The uniforms of the soldiers sent to Iraq are frequently decorated with a reversed American flag. On the one hand this is completely in accord with military protocol, even if being a complete exception to the usual flag code. It appears only on the right arm, and represents the US flag when carried and moving forwards, with the stripes therefore waving backwards behind the pole. On the other hand it conveniently falls in the category of the reversed pentagram, cross, dove, etc... which stands for the opposing principle of repression and power-hold.

Eeek!

Let us pray for our brothers and sisters in arms that the highest love of their blessed creator will guide them and protect them during this wartime separation from their families. And may all of them fall under the protection of divine peace and order. We all want them home safely and as soon as possible. Amen!

be tapped. Peace groups have been under surveillance, and an act as unremarkable as checking a book out of a library now may invoke FBI scrutiny of library records, courtesy of the Patriot Act. The Patriot Act had already been written before the attacks of 911, and was waiting in the wings to be rammed through Congress. It is not my intention here to attempt an analysis of who the true perpetrators were of the 911 attacks. This has been adequately done by many authors and researchers, including Webster Tarpley and David Ray Griffin. What these redoubtable authors have failed to do is to draw the line of reasoning between the creation of what Tarpley terms “synthetic terror” to the war on Iraq as a position in a global chess game, rather than as an imperialistic invasion for purpose of seizure of oil resources. And neither Tarpley, Griffin, or any other of the 911 researchers that I am aware of have drawn attention to the implications of 817 as authorizing a mass domestic extermination project.

David Ray Griffin has postulated 911 to be a “new Pearl Harbor.” Tarpley has compared this event to the Reichstag fires in Hitler’s pre-war Germany.

Tarpley’s comparison provides a truly fertile field for comparison. It is a matter of historical fact that Hitler had his own Brownshirts burn down the German Parliament, then blamed this on the Communists. This provided a bogus “national emergency” so as to provide a rationale for the stripping of civil liberties necessary for his ascension to dictatorship.

As a result of the false state of emergency, Hitler was granted emergency powers. He ultimately used these enhanced powers to invade Poland, Norway, the Netherlands, France, Belgium as he headed on towards his mission of world control, and to launch an extermination policy within his own country. The mass genociding of the Jews, the gypsies, Communists, Jehovah’s Witnesses, the disabled, homosexuals and political dissidents in Hitler’s Germany has become the modern day standard against which other brutal dictatorships are now measured.

The process of rights-stripping as a result of the creation of “synthetic terror,” as well as our imperialistic invasions of the Middle East strongly echo Hitler’s proto-ment of the water weapon. Through our invasion of Iraq, we have secured a base with proximity to Israel. This will facilitate the bombing and wholesale destruction of the tiny Jewish state, which our government could then easily blame on Osama bin Laden, Iran, Hezbollah or whatever most convenient fall guy we choose.

It is now common knowledge that intelligence agencies can commandeer bookstore records, bug conference rooms and tap phones with impunity. It is NOT common knowledge that the government can, at will and without due process, poison selected U.S. citizens. It is the hope of this reporter that by adequately documenting the plan to use the water system as a weapons system that it may be possible to derail what will otherwise be the worst genocidal attack in the history of the planet.

In order for the water system to be deployed as a selective, finely honed targeting system, it would be necessary for it to be configured in certain ways. First of all, there would need to be at least two water lines in most neighborhoods. One line would provide ordinary water, while the second line would contain the toxins. My research on the water system in such disparate venues as Los Angeles and Spokane has revealed the existence of the double line system.

I have attached two photographs of blueprints from the Spokane water system type. Missing is an awareness of a domestic extermination policy. It is the contention of this reporter that the Patriot Act has indeed codified a domestic extermination policy, via “delivery systems” and “toxins,” which has yet to be deployed. 817 appears to be the slam dunk death clause in the Patriot Act.

And if the Jews are, again, one of the primary targets slated for extermination, as this reporter believes, then the destruction of Israel would be a necessary precondition for the deploy-

Fraudulent Land Grabbing in America

By Investigative Journalist Red O' Hara, Republic of Ireland

From the earliest stages of the formation of America, land grabbing has a historic place in the annals of history. Beginning with King Edward on to the present time. In California, after the civil war the stockholders of the Kern County Land and Cattle Company had Congress pass a Reclamation Act, which made possible, any land could be claimed for reclamation that could be served from a boat, would be granted to the party claiming it. The stockholders of KCCL Company placed a boat on a wagon, had a surveyor do his survey from the boat on the wagon, claiming land from Los Banos to Tejon, California, and became the largest single landowner in California.

The United States government history is filled with similar land grabs, which they used for speculation purposes. In Montana, after the Treaty of Fort Laramie of 1851 with the Crow Tribe of Indians, which provided a safe passage for white settlers going west for the California Gold Rush of 1849, millions of acres of land were given to the Indians in exchange for safe passage of the settlers going west to the gold fields of California.

In 1891, the United States government began selling reservation land to raise funds, and bring settlers into Montana, a typical land speculation. The Clark family bought their first 160 acres in 1913 in a government land sale for one dollar per acre. By 1980, the Clark ranch had grown to over 20,000 acres. However, with the demand for hydrocarbons, through covert legal actions the Clarks were subjected to unfounded litigation by government agencies. In Kern County flying at 12,000 feet in private aircraft you can smell the hydrocarbons in the air. In Montana, you can smell it in the water. A water well 500 feet deep provides plenty of water, but it must first be distilled to remove the methane gas before it is potable.

Paul and Emma Berger own 75,000 acres adjoining the Clark ranch. The Bergers came under attack by former US Attorney Sherry Scheel Matteucci for allegedly poisoning Bald Eagles with a can of Roundup Weed Killer. Matteucci obtained a search warrant for the Berger ranch and brought CNN undercover photographers to videotape the search, without disclosing CNN's covert videotaping for regular TV broadcasting. An indictment was issued against Paul Berger, who was 75 years old at the time, and CNN published the search on national television. The Bergers fought back by suing Matteucci and CNN, after appeals to the Supreme Court, the Bergers were awarded ten million dollars by CNN. Matteucci was granted qualified immunity by the Supreme Court because the law on ride-along news media was not well settled at the time. In truth, Matteucci was part of an attempted government land grab, using the criminal justice system to steal the Berger's land. Matteucci had honed her skills on the Bergers and the Clarks were next.

There exists a covert government plan titled "Buffalo Commons" to remove farmers and ranchers from Montana to New Mexico in the over thrust belt of the Rocky Mountain states, by scattered civil actions for violations of the Environmental Protection Act for overgrazing and endangering certain wild grasses and plants. It is also used to cancel grazing rights and leases. Using selected scattered ranchers and farmers under EPA lawsuits, conceals the true and extent of the plan.

With the increased demand and higher price for methane gas and oil, and new technology to separate the gas from the Coal bed Methane, insiders and friends of former President Bill "Slick Willie" Clinton purchased the "N Bar" ranch in Central Montana consisting of 125,000 acres for $18 million dollars, sold off the cattle and have torn down all of the ranch buildings and are drilling gas wells.

Most of the old families have been forced to sell their ranches and farms at a loss, not realizing the value of the mineral rights. Montana has a new breed of speculators ranging from "Slick Willie" to Organized Crime Figures, with Halliburton holding vast amounts of mineral rights in Montana.

Former Halliburton President "Dick Cheney" is from Casper Wyoming. Gillette, Wyoming is where the first Coal bed Methane gas wells were drilled, with new technology developed to separate the gas from the water and is moving north to Montana.

The cost of drilling a 500-foot well is minimal and lucrative. The state of Montana expects to receive hundreds of billions of dollars in tax revenue from the Coal bed Methane.

Plans to build a "Coal to Liquid" plant on Indian Reservation land near Coalstrip, Montana, where the largest coal mining operation exists, funded Governor Brian Schweitzer's election campaign, and his pledge to honor the Indian treaties. However, Governor Schweitzer seems to have forgotten his cousin LeRoy Michael Schweitzer, who brought the Schweitzer name into the public light that helped elect governor Schweitzer. By honoring and upholding the Treaty of Fort Laramie of 1851, granting exclusive jurisdiction to Montana over offenses committed by non-Indians against another non-Indian while in Indian Country, Governor Schweitzer has jurisdiction to hear the Freeman's habeas corpus petitions presented to him and free them "Instantly" from the "Bogus" charges.

Using the media is the latest method to grab land in Montana. It is almost impossible to defend against a criminal charge and protect one's property interest from a jail cell simultaneously.

"Paparazzi" Ambush Journalism is not an Economic Activity under the Jurisdiction of the Commerce Clause.

ABC Primetime Live and its parent American Broadcasting Company were engaged in "Paparazzi" Ambush Journalism of John Patrick and the "Montana Freeman," beginning in July 1995, with uninvited intrusions into the home of Rodney Owen Skurdal, seeking video-footage and interviews, and were ejected on six occasions, and warned; "the next time you will be arrested for trespassing, NO INTERVIEWS." Schweitzer's warning to the "Paparazzi" ABC Primetime Live was published in a national broadcast on December 7, 1995 by ABC. John Patrick and the Freeman moved to Justus Township near Brusett, Montana on September 26, 1995.

On October 2, 1995, ABC Primetime Associate Producer Allison Marie Sesnon, acting under color of authority of FBI agent Tommie R. Canady and AUSA James E. Seykora defiantly criminally trespassed on the "Posted Private Property" of the Clark ranch. "Justus Township" attempting by stealth and ambush with the intent to capture John Patrick et. al. visual images, sound recordings, or other physical impressions, to use, to paint John Patrick et. al. in a "Bad Light" as a "Hate Group" and to do video surveillance of the ranch, buildings, and surroundings for the FBI.

On October 2, 1995, Justus Township Constable Daniel E. Petersen arrested Sesnon and the Bowers and seized the camera and sound equipment as evidence of their trespass. On October 3, 1995, Daniel E. Peterson filed his affidavit on his arrest of the affidavit of the events of October 2, 1995. Robbers do not execute affidavits concerning their unlawful acts; both were entered into evidence during the trials, but ignored by the jury.

It is the pattern and practice of ABC Primetime Live and its parent ABC to engage in "Paparazzi" Ambush Journalism. See: Food Lion Inc. v. Capital Cities/ABC Inc. 951 F.Supp. 1224 (S.D.N.C. 1996), where ABC rose as a defense it was not involved in interstate commerce. ABC cannot have it both ways, nor can disqualify Judge Molloy. Former U.S. Attorney Sherry Scheel Matteucci covertly videotapes targets of her persecutions to paint said targets in a "Bad Light" to taint the prospective jury pools to convict. Cite: Berger v. Hanlon 129 F.3d 808 (9th Cir. 1998). The Supreme Court granted qualified immunity to Matteucci in Hanlon v. Berger (1999) 526 US 808, because the law was not well settled.

ABC raised the defense of not being in interstate commerce. However, the district court in Turnbull v. American Broadcasting Company 2006 U.S. District LEXIS 24351 held; quoting California Civil Code §1708 (j) "it is clear the legislature intended to prevent paparazzi photographers or other journalist from invading the privacy of individuals and then selling the images unlawfully obtained by stealth. In defining the term "for commercial purposes," section 1708 clearly addresses the sale or publication of images through invasive means "for commercial purposes" means any act done with the expectation of a sale, financial gain, or other consideration. There is not First Amendment protection for images so obtained. Conversely, "Paparazzi" ABC Primetime Live Sesnon and the Bowers cannot claim robbery under the Hobbs Act, when in fact they were the "Robbers" of John Patrick and the Freeman's private copyrighted images for the FBI and U.S. Attorney, without a warrant, nor consent, and then maliciously prosecute John Patrick and the Freeman for protecting their right to privacy. Sesnon and the Bowers were a "nuisance," under Common Law John Patrick had a right to "abate the nuisance" by any means, including seizing the camera and sound equipment under Montana statute MCA 27-30-201, 301.

The district court in the District of Montana in a recent ruling by disqualified judge Molloy stated there was federal jurisdiction under the commerce clause to charge John Patrick et. al. with violation of the Hobbs Act 18 USC §1951(a).

In another lawsuit against ABC wherein they are charged with "Paparazzi" Ambush Journalism using hidden cameras. Cite: Turnball v. American Broadcasting Company et. al. 2004 U.S. District LEXIS 24351, ABC sought summary judgment in part under the commerce clause. In Cite: Food Lion Inc. v. Capital Cities/ABC Inc. 951 F.Supp. 1224, 1231 ABC was sued under North Carolina's Unfair Trade Practices Act, which encompasses businesses "in or affecting commerce." Defendant ABC claimed that newsgathering and journalism are not a business within the purview of the statute. Defendant ABC disputed the "commerce" element. ABC Primetime Live has "Unclean Hands" and cannot state a claim under the commerce clause of the Hobbs Act to prosecute John Patrick et.al..

Montana's Maxims of Jurisprudence

MCA 1-3-208 OWN WRONG-"No Advantage" No one can take advantage of his own wrong. Under Montana Maxims of Jurisprudence "Paparazzi" ABC Primetime Live Associate Producer Allison Marie Sesnon and independent subcontractor camera crew Hal and Amy Jo Bowers cannot trespass to steal John Patrick et.al.'s copyrighted images and sound impressions on videotape without a warrant or consent. They cannot be arrested by Justus Township Constable Daniel E. Petersen or be ordered to come to court to face the trespass charge. Instead they

Interesting information

- (A) The number of physicians in the U.S. is 700,000.
- (B) Accidental deaths caused by Physicians per year are 120, 000.
- (C) Accidental deaths per physician are 0.171.

Statistics courtesy of U.S. Dept of Health Human Services.

Now think about this:

Guns:

- (A) The number of gun owners in the U.S. is 80,000,000. (Yes, that's 80million...)
- (B) The number of accidental gun deaths per year, all age groups, is 1,500.
- (C) The number of accidental deaths per gun owner is .000188.

Statistics courtesy of FBI

So, statistically, doctors are approximately 9,000 times more dangerous than gun owners. Remember, "Guns don't kill people, doctors do."

FACT: NOT EVERYONE HAS A GUN, BUT ALMOST EVERYONE HAS AT LEAST ONE DOCTOR.

POLITICAL DEMOCRACY VS. CONSTITUTIONAL REPUBLIC

“America’s private disinformation news sources are planting seeds of fear into the minds of those who have been robbed of the capacity to think for themselves; or those who can’t comprehend that the federal government is private, with private agendas which are currently focusing on North America’s prisoners as perhaps running this country within the next ten-to-fifteen years! My thoughts on that are, “Thank God for that; I’m looking forward to it!” —Sharon Lee; Shields

Mob Rule is “Democracy” in America

At this time I feel more hopeful about the direction of America for Americans’ than at any other time in my life because the democratic government is falling apart; as one of the political leaders gets nabbed for conspiracy, fraud and embezzlement, they point the finger at another one, taking each other down! I said in an earlier article: Prophecy promises that evil will destroy evil! Stay out of the way and let it happen.

Most if the men and women in prison today are falsely imprisoned, and must be stunned and still questioning how they got there in accordance with the laws they believed were protecting them. Those same thoughts plagued me for years because something felt wrong with the application of laws, application of government, and with the application of our freedom and liberty; all of which were bred into our heritage, culture, minds and hearts as being unalienable, secured in our “republics.” Individual rights guaranteed for each man, woman and child as Masters.

The Revolutionary War exploded into existence due to taxation without representation!

Hum. Any bells ringin’ here? All of the men and women today are political prisons, and many are condemned for taxation without representation!

Our Constitutional Republic was born when the colonies’ established and the men and women became self supporting and then united to free themselves from British tyranny. After the colonists won the Revolutionary War, our Founding Father’s put into writing a new government concept, taking into consideration the successes and failures of government throughout history; researching true, unadulterated sovereignty and freedom for the common man based on defending and protecting the rights of individuals. The new concept for government was known as the “republic” which identified the common man as the sovereign (solvent) and government as the servant, birthed in the treaty with the people in the Constitution of the united states Republics. [Emphasis Added] stand alone as their own political units and spiritual beings. None had a monopoly of power; and, men and women were devoted to the welfare and service of their community, having more power than kings and queens of other countries because they had no masters; beholding to none, relying only on self, family and community. The pyramid of power was: God first; under God was man/woman; not government!

Intended that People were masters of government; individuals

The Constitution was and still is, although obscure, an instructional manual for the sovereign nation-state republics; however, if the instructional manual was used back in history as instructional manuals are used today, instructions were and still are only referred to when all else fails! We’ll work for hours, even days, trying to put something together, struggling and stressing because something won’t fit or go together, only referring to the instructional manual as last resort after valuable time was lost and unreasonable stress had been endured.

Instructional manuals are the foundation for whatever is being assembled, whether it’s a barbeque grill, computer, home, community or defending our rights, we have to know how to put them together and, know where to find the instructions and in the case of government, where to find the laws.

The instructional manual states that the sheriff represented the republic, with the responsibility of keeping peace and controlling outbursts, mobs and terrorism. Laws were enacted by the People in a community for the people of that community; and, the sheriff was hired to “enforce” the letter of those laws, as they were written.

Let’s say a Governor’s son stole a horse (car in modern times) and robbed a bank. The Governor had a lot of power, money and influence so he put pressure on the sheriff to deviate from the letter of the law of hanging or even prosecuting his son; but the sheriff stood strong enforcing the law by jailing the Governor’s son, charging him with horse stealing (hangable offense), and bank robbery (firing squad offense).

So, the Governor rallied an equal-in-power support team in the community putting pressure on the sheriff to move the son to another republic. Still, the sheriff held true to his values, the law and his badge (oath) upholding the rights of the peoples’ law by keeping the son in jail, awaiting trial.

Within days the sheriff received letters from other governors, senators and representative putting more pressure on the sheriff. The pressure escalated with threats of being blackballed from the community and forever as a law enforcement officer or representative of the law.

The town’s people were busy, as most American’s were and are today, and lost sight of the Governor’s son sitting in jail, knowing nothing about the Governor or his group pressuring the sheriff, which turned into threats on the sheriff’s life. Oblivious about their laws and lawful leader being compromised, the town’s people went about their daily routines, secured in the fact that the sheriff was doing his job.

The sheriff had no where to turn; the people didn’t have time to know their laws were being compromised, along with their sheriff, who needed their numbers. The sheriff was up against hundreds of power-people from all over North America by this time; and, most assuredly would’ve lost his job and reputation, even his life. He was forced to secretly extradite (move) the Governor’s son allegedly to a far off republic to stand trial. All of which was done out of fear, terrorizing the sheriff by “mob rule” who demanded that the sheriff surrender the law of the community, his values, his oath and esthetics.

Once extradited the Governor’s son would’ve been freed from any/all charges, because the out-of-town republic couldn’t sentence him to a crime that he did not commit in their community, county or nation. So, the son most likely released to go straight home, lived a free, wealthy and happy life, and went on to fill his father’s shoes! Sound familiar of the democratic government, today?

The sheriff and his authority and community laws were threatened (terrorized) by “mob rule” where the majority ruled (overthrew the lawful authority, community and the sheriff in accordance with democratic majority) because a mass of people rallied with the Governor the majority ruled. Even though unalienable rights and the lawful government was overthrown in this case, as in today’s government, the Governor’s gang of supporters (known today as big government) became “the mob” possessing the power to overthrow; but not the right to do so!

It’s clear why you do not hear out of the mouths of the current senators’, representatives’ and D.C. staff the term “republic” when referring to government. Nor, will not hear on the term “republic” on news casts because government has been transformed into a democratic government.

Ibid: ‘The new concept for government was known as the “republic” which identified the common man as the sovereign (solvent) and government as the servant.’

Our Constitutional republics have been replaced with a “political democracy”; surely a sobering thought to reflect on when you understand the full implications of a democracy which changed the course of our government with the stroke of a pen in the first executive order.

Under the current “political democratic government” you are deemed incompetent by and through several usurpations documents which appoint the democratic government trustee over your life, liberty and freedom; all of which is disguised as a protection; however, government is not in the business of protecting or defending the rights of people. Government does whatever it take in the best interest of government!

Government in North America has nothing to do with “Republics or People.” I researched many State statutes and codes books and couldn’t find the terms “man or woman” in any of them. That means the processes and procedures provided in court by the administration of government have nothing to do with “you”; but has everything to do with doing business, such as the businesses of creating wars and building prisons. Are you familiar with who owns and is heavily invested in wars and North America’s prison systems? Yes. Your leaders, politicians, who consciously build political prisons and make prisoners out of men and women, your family for personal gain! Yes, senators, representatives, judges, attorneys, clerks, administrators, presidents, etc., etc., men and women running this country are heavily invested in holding your family as “political prisons” for trumped up political crimes (statutory crimes) which they make up as they go along, enacting (sometimes they don’t even do that) legislative and executive laws against us. Are we experiencing: Tolitarianism, Fascism, Nazism or Communism? Frankly, it’s all boils down to the same, it’s all “treason” when it comes to usurpation of our republican government and its lawful authorities.

A Republic is representative government ruled by law (the Constitution). A democracy is direct government ruled by the majority (mob rule). A Republic recognizes unalienable rights of individuals, while democracies are concerned with the best interest of government.

True, lawmaking is a slow and deliberate process in our Constitutional republics, requiring approval from the three branches of government, the supreme Court and individual jurors (jury-nullification). Lawmaking in an unlawful democracy is rapid, requiring approval from the whim of the majority. Today, all government officials (they are not lawful officers) should remove themselves from office for impersonating a lawful republican form of government, and aiding and abetting other known criminals, such as themselves!

Right now, this is happening in Alaska’s democratic government as I write. Leadership exposing leadership; the government is falling apart with each one blowing the whistle on the other. It’s wonderful because there are two powerful figures that I’m sure will be exposed, eventually! Those with private yachts in Japan, etc. When there are no longer enough producers to fund the illegitimate functions of the current democratic government and its socialist programs, the democracy will collapse! Something we can look forward to!

The Constitution guarantees to every state (lower case “s” in state) in this union a Republican form of government”.... Conversely, the word Democracy is not mentioned even once in the Constitution. Madison warned us of the dangers of democracies with these words, “Democracies have ever been spectacles of turbulence and contention; have ever been found incompatible with personal security or the rights of property; and have in general been as short in their lives as they have been violent in their deaths...”

“We may define a republic to be ... a government which derives all its powers directly or indirectly from the great body of the people, and is administered by persons holding their offices during pleasure for a limited period, or during good behavior.” James Madison, Federalist No. 10, (1787).

Can anyone tell me that they know of even one (1) man or woman in government today who is displaying good behavior?

A military training manual used to contain the correct definitions of Democracy and Republic. The following comes from Training Manual No. 2000-25 published by the War Department, November 30, 1928.

DEMOCRACY:

- A government of the masses.
- Authority derived through mass meeting or any other form of "direct" expression.
- Results in mobocracy.
- Attitude toward property is communistic--negating property rights.
- Attitude toward law is that the will of the majority shall regulate, whether is be based upon deliberation or governed by passion, prejudice, and impulse, without restraint or regard to consequences.
- Results in demagoguism, license, agitation, discontent, anarchy.

REPUBLIC:

- Authority is derived through the election by the people of public officials best fitted to represent them.
- Attitude toward law is the administration of justice in accord with fixed principles and established evidence, with a strict regard to consequences.
- A greater number of citizens and extent of territory may be brought within its compass.
- Avoids the dangerous extreme of either tyranny or mobocracy.
- Results in statesmanship, liberty, reason, justice, contentment, and progress.
- Is the "standard form" of government throughout the world.

There isn’t any gray areas here as to what government is currently in power!

Close to eighty-five percent of the men and women in prison today are incarcerated for political (private) gain for revenue producing corporations, just as creating wars is revenue producing for the democratic powers that be, all of which is done through statutory laws, void of lawful authority or application over men and women.

Political prisoners (men and women) are going to be out of prison in numbers, and I’m sure will make it a point to be active in government reform; and of course, looking for justice in all the right places! Who better qualified than the current prisoners’ who know first hand about being duped, betrayed and about injustice through mock due process hearings by crooked attorneys and judges, both concerned with their own personal gains, only.

On another note, for my loyal readers: I wrote in a few articles back about submitting a “Notice of Removal” into the administrative courts; and with the experience of a man whom I’ve known for years, his battle with the democratic government courts raged for three years over trumped-up (bogus) criminal and civil charges, all of which were “Dismissed” in May 2007 because He actually followed the “Notice of Removal” to the letter, without changes or personal ego added. Proving that “if you know what you’re doing, you can free yourself from the protections of the democratic government!” In this case, the court even acknowledged this man’s sovereign status and standing on the return envelope with the “Dismissal” enclosed. Which really says a lot for educating these administrative courts because I believe that they are understanding that they are usurping rights of the people, and will be held accountable for personally and professionally, and very soon!

Information, concepts and things:

By Terra R. Gibbs, Assistant Editor

By Robert Kelly

Just as you can read between the gory lines in the newspaper on any given day in America, you can discover clues and truths slipped in by the Powers that be... if you look hard enough as to what is actually going on. Such 'notice' can also be found in somewhat lighter fare, ...the movies!

As you well know, movies have become the national pastime of entertainment. Millions go to the movies, VHS tapes and DVD's fill in the rest of the gap. The story-line, topics, and time-frames vary as to the manuscript and the vision of the Directors.

Such a movie was 'The Wizard of Oz,' an allegory for the new state of affairs in America in the 1930s following the stock market crash and the factual bankruptcy of the United States Government immediately following.

'The Wizard of Oz' movie is not just a movie for children, though perceived today it is, and it has become a national icon of an historical nature, replayed every year on television... just for the children.

What is missed by most, is the symbolism in the movie, in almost every character and aspects of the 'set' and so-called 'special effects' and props back then. After reading this article and then seeing the movie again, it will never be the same to you... or your children!

The setting was Kansas: Heartland America, the geographical center of the USA. In comes the twister, the tornado, i. e. whirling confusion of the stock market crash that left everybody economically 'dizzy!' It signified the theft of America's gold, the coming US bankruptcy, the Great Depression and the tornado whisked Dorothy and Toto up into a new, artificial (dream-like) dimension somewhere above the solid ground of Kansas. When Dorothy awakes, she finds herself in the 'land of Oz.' Dorothy comments to her little companion; "Toto, I have a feeling we're not in Kansas anymore."

That's right. After the bankruptcy, Kansas was no longer just plain old "Kansas," it was now "KS," an artificial corporate venue of the bankrupt United States, newly established "federal territory," part of the "Federal Zone," and Dorothy and Toto were in "this state" now. On her journey in this unfamiliar land, Dorothy meets up with three unusual 'characters,' each having certainly a different problem or aspect as portrayed on the silver-screen, but their true identity has been de-coded and it follows!

The first was the Scarecrow (a man of straw – a front) and 'he' identified his straw-man persona for Dorothy; "Some people without brains do an awful lot of talking. Of course, I'm not bright about doing things." And in his classic song, "If I Only Had a Brain," the Scarecrow/Straw Man succinctly augured; "I'd unravel every riddle, for every 'individdle,' (individual) in trouble or in pain."

Today, in light of Redemption, we would translate it as; Once one discovers that his straw-man exists, all political and legal mysteries, complexities, and confusions are resolved or understood and once one takes legal title (control) to his 'Straw-man,' he becomes the 'authorized representative' of the 'Straw-man' to accept and discharge (settle) all commercial affairs, as in Oz (the new commercial world – aka the MATRIX) because the 'Straw-man' has no BRAINS, and no hands and fingers to grasp a pen to write the check, so to speak, to pay the fine, fee, tax or debt!

The second character was the Tin Man, or "T.I.N. man" (also identified as; Tax payer Identification Number"). The Tin Man was a hollow man of metal, a "vessel," a "vehicle", a newly created commercial code words for the straw man. Just like the Scarecrow, the Tin Man had no brain and had no heart. Both were "artificial persons." One of the definitions of "tin" in Webster's is "counterfeit." The Tin Man also represented the mechanical and heartless aspect of commerce and commercial law. Just like they say in the Mafia; "Nothing personal, it's just business." And in another profession similar to the Mafia, the business of lawyering, they have the attitude that it's nothing personal, "bidness is bidness." The heartless Tin Man also carried an ax, the traditional symbol for God, i.e., modern commercial law in most earlier dominant civilizations, including fascist states. In the words of the Tin Man, expressing relief after Dorothy had oiled his rusty points and parts said; "I've held that ax up for ages."

The word "ace" is etymologically related to the word "ax," and in a deck of cards the only one above the King is the Ace, i.e. God. One of the "Axis" Powers of World War II, Italy, was a fascist state. The symbol for fascism is the "fasces," a bundle of rods with an ax bound up in the middle and its blade projecting. The fasces may be found on the reverse of the American Mercury-head Dime (in Roman deity 'Mercury' was the God of Commerce). It can also be found on the wall behind, and on each side of, the speaker's podium in the US Senate (each gilded fasces is approximately six feet in height), and at the base of the seal of the US Senate are two crossed fasces.

The third character that Dorothy met was the Cowardly Lion, or "King of Beasts" and as the most feared of all animals in the jungle, was lacking 'courage!' The

The Wizard of OZ

The 'Coded' Movie of what really happened to America the movie, the slippers were silver, but were changed to 'red' to be more colorful!

At the time the book was written America still had all its gold and silver, and the value of one ounce of gold was set at 15 ounces of silver, silver being the more plentiful of the two metals and was known as 'poor mans gold!'. Just as the silver slippers carried Dorothy, America's stockpile of silver and gold, backing the currency carried the country to a position of preeminence throughout the world at that time. But, as mentioned, when the movie came out in 1939 the slippers were not silver, but red.

Between 1916 and 1933, most of America's gold was rounded up by the 'privately owned' Federal Reserve Banks and shipped off to the Fed owners in England and Germany. The reason for this was that Federal Reserve Notes could be redeemed in gold and the use of Federal Reserve Notes carried an interest penalty that could only be paid in gold. The American people were defrauded into trading their gold for (worthless) paper with green ink on it, and our previous currency, United States Notes, carried no such interest requirement, but such was the bargain that came with the Federal Reserve Notes. The reason JFK was murdered was because he was re-issuing United States Notes – interest free! Go to any coin store and see or buy a 1963 U.S. (not Federal Reserve) Note].

When the bankruptcy was declared in 1933, Americans were required (mis-directed) to turn in all gold coin, gold bullion, and gold certificates by May 1st, 'May Day' (the birthday of Communism in Bavaria in 1776, the birthday of the IRS, and celebrated worldwide as the "International Workers Holiday," a holy day to the Wizard and his tribe).

Talking to people who were alive at that time, you may find out that the general sentiment toward such thievery bordered on a second revolution. Maybe it was just too much of a clue, or too much salt in the wound for Dorothy to be skipping down the "Yellow Brick Road" in a pair of "silver slippers" so, for whatever reason, a color less likely to annoy or provoke was selected. (i.e., Red!)

With regard to the choice of "ruby," or red-colored, slippers: Red's primary significance, at least on documents and the like, is that it is the color of blood, as in flesh-and-blood, and symbolizes a living, breathing man or woman, i. e. non-corporate non-artificial.

The color 'Red' could also have been chosen for the related tie to the International Banking, Federal Reserve founder, the Rothchild, [aka Red Shield] family? It does signify "private," as opposed to "public."

Your new Social Security Card has a red serial number on the reverse, likely signifying the private-side 'bond/account' attached to the public side of your 'Straw-

Lion is symbolic of the once fearless American people, who have since lost their courage. Yes, there are a lot of 'hot talkers' out there, just listen to your local radio talk shows. American men love to talk, but none have the courage to "DO" a damn thing! The American people are scared of the corporate Federal System and local revenue collectors i.e. cops and judges in their so-called courtrooms (tribunals) of justice (commerce). After your first few go- arounds with the 'Just-Us' system, believing there was 'justice' in the courts, you probably lost some of your courage too. And you may have not known it, but the IRS has been dealing with only your 'Straw-man' (Debtor) strictly under the laws of Commerce and they are just like the Tin Man, heartless!

archies of Europe and looted their kingdoms. Maybe this "Professor Marvel" fellow knew something about the future that other folks didn't. With a human skull peering down from its painted perch above the door inside his wagon, the good professor lectured Dorothy of the priests of Isis and Osiris and the days of the pharaohs of Egypt!

When Dorothy and her new friends emerged from the forest they were elated to see the Emerald City before them, only a short jaunt away. Then came the Wicked Witch of the West, desperate for the ruby slippers that Dorothy was wearing, as they held special powers. A significant point here is that in the original book, The Wonderful Wizard of Oz, published in 1900, (39 years earlier), the slippers were not red, but silver. In the first cut of

FDA Tyranny and the Censorship Of Cherry Health Facts (Opinion)

by Mike Adams

In the past, I jokingly said that broccoli might someday be banned as soon as the public begins to learn about the potent anti-cancer chemicals found in the vegetable. That's because, as I jested, the FDA wouldn't want people treating their own cancer with the anti-cancer medicines found in cruciferous vegetables. But it seems that my joke wasn't so funny after all, because the FDA is now threatening cherry growers with raids to confiscate their cherries, haul them into court, and put them out of business for doing one simple thing that the FDA cannot stand to allow: The distribution of scientific information describing the health benefits of cherries.

On October 17, 2005, the FDA sent warning letters to 29 companies that market cherries. In these letters, the FDA threatened these companies with legal action and told them they had to remove the scientific information on their websites that described the health benefits of the natural medicines found in cherries, such as the anthocyanins that reduce inflammation for arthritis sufferers. According to the warped FDA logic that now seems to be standard, when cherry growers post scientific information about the health benefits of their cherries, they magically transform their cherries into drugs and therefore, as drugs, they must have FDA approval in order to sell them in the United States.

The FDA says a cherry is a drug

Now, any normal, sane person would look at a cherry and say, "It's just a cherry." It's a natural fruit that people have been eating for as long as anyone can remember. But the FDA, in light of the fact that people are now discovering that cherries are actually good medicine, looks at a cherry and says (paraphrasing), "No, it's a drug, and you have to have our permission to market it, and if you continue to talk about the health benefits of cherries, we will use our power to put you out of business."

This event demonstrates perfectly well the sinister nature of the FDA, which clearly intends to restrict the vspread of knowledge about cherries and thereby protect the profits of anti-inflamma-

tory drugs that treat joint pain. If Americans knew the true power of cherries to reduce inflammation, you see, the sales of anti-inflammatory drugs might plummet, and the criminal drug pushers who run organized medicine today can't allow that to happen. Hence, censorship and oppression of scientific information are the tactics used to keep the American people ignorant and, therefore, controlled.

Because it's not just cherries that contain powerful medicine, you see. It's blueberries, garlic, cabbage, onions, ginger, turmeric, cinnamon, aloe vera, almonds and a thousand other natural foods and medicinal herbs. If the public understood the true healing power of these foods -- and the powerful medicines they contain -- conventional medicine and all its drug-pushing participants would suddenly be irrelevant and bankrupt.

It is the most insidious use of power by any federal agency because its aim is ignorance, not education. It seeks to isolate people from information that might save them in order to control them, and it is the same tactic used by every evil regime in world history, including Nazi Germany. It also makes the FDA the single greatest threat to the health and safety of the American people, far outweighing the threat of terrorism in terms of the number of people harmed or killed.

More nonsense from the FDA

Amazingly, the FDA doesn't claim to disagree with the scientific information about cherries. Instead, it says that cherries "have not been recognized as safe and effective when used as labeled." And as the Life Extension Foundation explains, the FDA's interpretation of the law means that cherry growers are "engaged in criminal conduct by relaying findings that have been published in peer reviewed scientific journals." So now publishing information makes you a criminal even if that information is scientifically sound and widely known to be absolutely true.

Cherries are now, according to the FDA, not recognized as safe and effective when used "as labeled." I'm just curious, what does the label of cherries say about using it? Does it say, "Eat me?" Because that's what we should all be saying to the FDA right now, as it is an agency immersed in such absolute nonsense that even fools can see the emperor has no clothes. To say a cherry is a drug and then threaten cherry growers with drug crimes is something ripped right out of the pages of 1984 and its Ministry of Truth. (See Wikipedia to learn more.)

In terms of genuine authority, the FDA is nothing short of an utter joke and an embarrassment to the American people. Unfortunately, it still has power, and it is exploiting that power to threaten cherry growers with criminal prosecution for doing what people have done for countless generations on this earth, which is to grow their own fruits and eat those fruits while enjoying their many benefits.

Do not tolerate

unjust authority

Gandhi once initiated the Salt March to Dandi (the "Salt Satyagraha") in defiance of the tyrannical salt taxation rules of the occupying British government, and there he and his followers intentionally violated the law by harvesting salt from the waters. It was a practice that had been carried out for centuries by the people there, and one that provides essential minerals for human health. Gandhi's defiance may teach us something very important about modern times, and that is that when a law is so unjust as to stand in violation of fundamental human rights, it is not only the right, but the duty of individuals to stand in firm opposition to that law and to challenge whatever authority unjustly imposes that law upon the people.

The FDA operates today much like the occupying British in 20th century India, oppressing the people, outlawing natural traditions like salt harvesting in order to control a monopoly market, silencing dissent, and threatening any organization or individual that challenges its power. The FDA, as it exists today, is an organization of tyranny and injustice that simply has no place in a free society.

End the tyranny of the FDA

If you're an American voter, one of the best ways to protect your health freedom, which is clearly under assault by the Food and Drug Administration as well as other disease-promoting interest groups, is to support the Health Freedom Protection Act (HR4282). It is a bill that will allow organizations like cherry growers to tell the truth about their products, as long as that truth is based on sound science. It would allow cherry growers, for example, to reference the published scientific studies that report on the healing benefits of the phytochemicals found in cherries.

Support the Health Freedom Protection Act (HR4282) by writing your representatives in Congress and voicing your opinion. Also visit the Life Extension Foundation, publishers of Life Extension Magazine, which contributed to this report.

Finally, refuse to live as a slave of conventional medicine and the FDA for another day. Demand health freedom and settle for nothing less than the ending of this age of medical tyranny that seeks to turn us all -- you, your parents, your children and preschoolers -- into ignorant, drug-induced consumers who will never know true freedom, nor true health. Perhaps the greatest legacy that we can pass on to our children is the ending of this medical McCarthyism and the unfolding of a new golden age of health freedom. Stay active and informed, and do not let ignorance and oppression prevail.

The Art Giving & I

By TAB Staff Writer

What is a Gift?

Do we really know what a gift is in our society? When you give someone something, whether it is your time, energy, money or an item, do you really give it to them, or do you leave strings attached? Most of us don't truly know how to give a gift. We've never been taught.

One of the ways to check in with yourself to know if your giving from the heart, with no conditions, is to imagine whatever you are giving the person then being given away. If you buy a lovely little lady a rose to show her how much you care for her, does you heart break when she turns and gives to the little old woman who looks like her day needed to be brightened up?

Okay, what about if you give someone a car and they turn around and give it to someone else? Does your attachment change with the dollar amount?

There are no right or wrong answers. Just a good way to be able to check in with yourself before you give a gift to know where you're coming from and how you'll feel no matter where your gift actually ends up. The gift of freedom truly is in the giving.

What is Appreciation?

Now what says our society on appreciation? Well, if I were to guess, we would rank pretty low here in the US. But true appreciation is a verb. It's an action or state

Are You At Risk?

The Problem

Twenty five years ago, you were probably more concerned with getting a golden tan from the sun than damaging your skin or getting cancer. Today, it's a different story. You know the Sun's UV (Ultra Violet) rays are dangerous, and you that the technology to counter these effects will be required by our acting government on all cell phone towers, power line feeds, electrical booster stations and all other forms of these dangerous frequencies.

People can suffer nausea, headaches and muscle pain when exposed to EMF waves from mobile phones, electricity pylons and computer screens. (Source: Health Protection Agency, Britain)

One of the newest, most pervasive stressors is now Electropollution. Medical researchers estimate that 90% of all illness and disease is stress-related. (source: Centers for Disease Control and Prevention)

Our love affair of the Sun is now being matched by our love affair with everything wireless – cell phones, cordless phones, iPods, PDA's, Bluetooth, and the list goes on and on. All these gadgets have certainly made our lives easier, but at what cost? A growing body of evidence had shown that the Electromagnetic Radiation (EMR) and Frequencies (EMF) emitted from these devices, also called Electropollution, can have a devastating effect on our health and wellness, and may increase our risk for disease and illness over time.

In fact, many medical experts have called Electropollution the greatest health risk of the 21st Century! They believe the stress caused to our bodies from it has the potential to impact all aspects of life at the molecular, cellular, biochemical, and physiological levels and suggest finding viable products to reduce our exposure and our body's response to this toxin.

Why You Need To Know

Talking 500 minutes per month on a cell phone increases the probability of brain cancer by 140%. (Source: Wireless Technology Research)

EMF is classified as a Group 2B carcinogen under standards established by the World Health Organization's Agency for Cancer Research. The chemicals DDT and lead are also Group 2B carcinogens. (Source National Institute for Environmental Health Sciences) Incidentally, at one time the US Government (sic) thought that lead was all right to put into paint and DDT was fine for our fruits and vegetables. Times change and because of the actions our country took to attempt to rid us of these things, there is hope ters on Wireless Technology Research stationary and sent then to the chairmen, CEOs of the cellular telephone industry.

The following are just some excerpts from this letter dated October 7, 1999 to AT&T Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Mr. C

Michael Armstrong.

Dear Mr. Armstrong:

After much thought, I am writing this letter to you, personally, to ask your assistance in solving what I believe is an emerging and serious problem concerning wireless phones. I write this letter in the interest of the more than 80 million wireless phone users in the United States and the more than 200 million worldwide.

- There appeared to be some correlation between brain tumors occurring on the right side of the head and the use of the cell phone on the right side of the head.
- Alarming, indications are that some segments of the industry have ignored the scientific findings suggesting potential health effects, have repeatedly and falsely claimed that wireless phones are safe for all consumers including children, and have created an illusion of responsible follow up by calling for and supporting more research.

seriously.

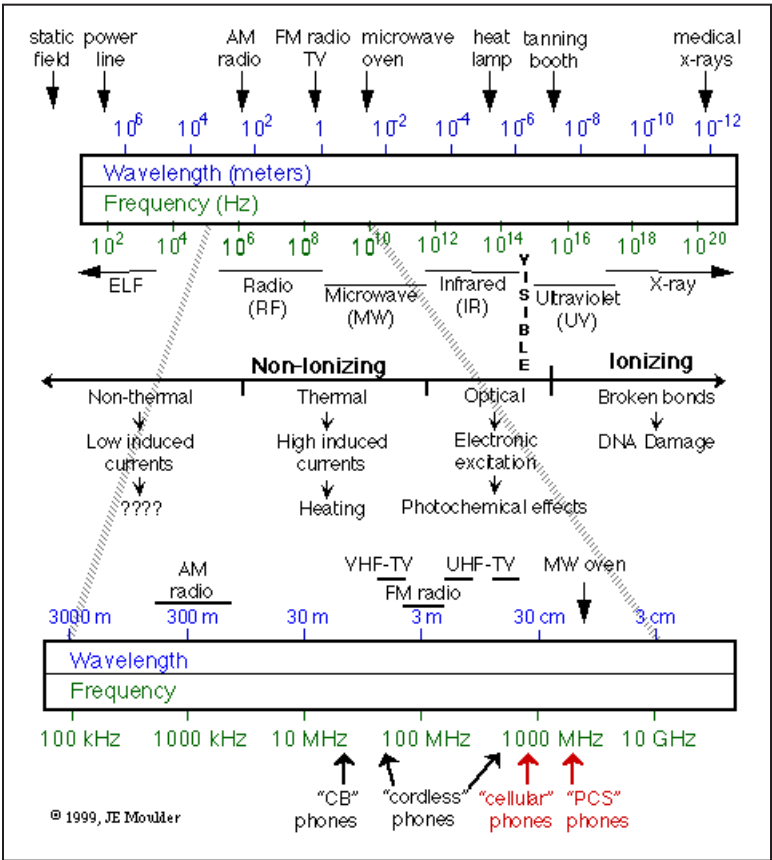

Now What Do We Do?

In researching EMF reduction tools, vigilance is certainly key. There are hundreds of products on the market that claim to reduce these harmful frequencies. There are wave blockers that stick on your cell phones; there are huge screens that go over your computer monitor. You name it; it's out there. So how do we sort out what works and what does not?

In Dr. Carlo's book he mentions that the products that claim to block the harmful effects of cell phone radiation would also block the cell phone signal itself, so right there we know those don't work. In fact, he says many of the gadgets out there are completely useless. One product that he does endorse is from a company called BIOPRO. They make chips for anything that plugs into an outlet. They even make whole house protection products.

What is different about these is that rather than trying to block the electromagnetic wave, it puts out a harmonizing frequency which soothes the wave and renders it harmless. Since waves interfere with each other, this technology makes sense. Chips that stick on your cell phone run about $35.00. The rest of the product line is in line, or even less expensive than products sold online claiming to stop or block these harmful effects. While researching this article, I even found one product that was just a piece of copper on a pendant for $250.00. BIOPRO offers state of the art wave technology that has been scientifically proven to nullify these harmful effects. The lab studies are overwhelmingly conclusive and the science backing this technology is incredible.

If you would like more information on BIOPRO products or EMF dangers go to www.mybiopro.com/stargazer or call 541-324-1221.

of existence. It's acknowledgement that this life of yours has been a team sport.

It is saying thank you and really meaning it. Whether someone hands you a pen or a million dollars. Appreciation doesn't have a price tag. Nor does it have an expiration date. But it does make space in your life for more blessings. Scientist have shown that people who experience feelings of gratitude have more to be grateful about.

There are websites like www.gogratitude.com dedicated solely to the state of gratitude on the planet. The Bible is loaded with gratitude verses. You will see them in the Song of Palms, Thessalonians, Colossians, Ephesians... you get the point.

The simple fact is that most anyone would rather do something for another who appreciates it. We all feel slated when we give of ourselves to others and are shown no appreciation for our effort. I can only wonder how God must feel about us. Thank God for GRACE!

When was the last you just looked up to the stars and said "Thank you!" for your life? The biggest things in life are handled with the littlest of things, and gratitude can be as simple as a silent state of being; but don't forget to let those close to you know how much you appreciate them.

Maritime Secret Liens

Submitted by TAB reader from <http://www.commonlawvenue.net>

Get 'em while you can...

Maritime liens are ancient encumbrances on vessels under Admiralty Law to enforce the payment of debts. Merchants and governments like admiralty law because it provides fewer rights to a debtor than the common law. Because ships can sail out of a jurisdiction, the merchants needed swift execution to collect debts. Therefore a creditor can have a vessel arrested by the police without any proof that the debt exists and without filing the lien. This is called an "in rem" action, in which the vessel or its cargo is seized without any proof. The creditor does not have to prove that the debt is owed unless someone files a counterclaim in a court. Thus a Notice of Lien can be sent to an alleged debtor without any proof or any filing. The courts have termed this a "secret lien" because it is not filed anywhere.

Land or Sea?

The UNITED STATES is the only government that enforces admiralty law inland. This law was initiated during the Civil War to confiscate property owned by enemies of the UNITED STATES government. The UNITED STATES is also the only government that has codified maritime liens into statutes, which is Title 46, Chapter 313. The secret lien is codified in 46 USC 31342. Maritime liens have a higher priority than all other liens. Their priority over statutory liens is stated in 46 USC 31307. Priority over common law liens is stated in 46 USC 31326. There are lists of lien priorities in the documents below, but we do not know the source of those lists. However, mortgage liens, IRS tax liens and other government liens are listed at the lowest priority.

Recorded maritime liens take priority over unrecorded liens and are called preferred maritime liens. The responsibility to record maritime liens is delegated to the UNITED STATES COAST GUARD. They have forms and instructions on their web site. But since there are no requirements for filing a maritime lien, and no proof required,

The responsibility to record maritime liens is delegated to the UNITED STATES COAST GUARD.

one can provide the public a Notice of Claim of Maritime Lien by recording it with the county or with the Secretary of State or recording it on a UCC1.

The Dirty Little Details

It is not possible to arrest people for statutory offenses under the common law. The government is operating under Admiralty law when they arrest 'persons' for statutory offenses. This is considered an 'in rem' action against a vessel. All bankruptcy seizures are also considered 'in rem' actions. Thus the title of the court case "In re Maxwell" means it is in rem. Therefore, it is considered that bank foreclosures, traffic tickets and other government arrests are only "notices of interest" or "notices of lien" based on secret maritime liens that have no proof and are rebuttable with a counterclaim. Therefore a recorded maritime lien would be a valid counterclaim as an affirmative defense against those "notices of interest."

413 (E.D.La. 08/11/1983)
The most quoted reference that defines a vessel as a person in admiralty jurisdiction is: G. Gilmore & C. Black, The Law of Admiralty p: 586-89 (2d ed. 1975)

He defines a vessel as a person and it is also common language in the dictionary and the Bible. Vessel is defined in the US Code at 1 USC 3. Black's Law Dictionary 8th Addition says the definition of vessel is very broad. The standard dictionary defines vessel as "a person as an agent or holder of something."

Case in point; "...at the Revolution, the sovereignty devolved on the people; and they are truly the sovereigns of the country, but they are sovereigns without subjects... with none to govern but themselves; the citizens of America are equal as fellow citizens, and as joint tenants in the sovereignty." CHISHOLM v. GEORGIA (US) 2 Dall 419, 454, 1 L Ed 440, 455 @ DALL 1793 pp471-472

"People of a State are entitled to all rights which formerly belonged to the king by his prerogative." Lansing vs Smith, 4 Wend. 9, 20 (1829).

"In the United States the people are sovereign and the government cannot sever its relationship to the people by taking away their citizenship." Afroyim vs Rusk, 387 U.S. 253 (1967).

"... the Congress cannot revoke the Sovereign Power of the People." Perry v. United States, 294 US 330, 353 (1935).

The following definition of sovereignty is from Bouvier's 14th edition Law Dictionary (quoting from 4 Wheat, 402):

"It has been justly thought a matter of importance to determine from what source the United States derives its authority... the question here proposed is whether our bond of union is a compact entered into by the states, or whether the Constitution is an organic law established by the People. To this we answer: We The People ... ordain and establish this Constitution" ... the government of the state had only delegated power (from the People) and even if they had an inclination, they had no authority to transfer the authority of the Sovereign People. The people in their capacity as Sovereigns made and adopted the Constitution; and it binds the state governments without the state's consent. The United States, as a whole, therefore, emanates from the People and not from the states, and the Constitution and laws of the states, whether made before or since the adoption of that Constitution of the United States, are subordinate to the United States Constitution and the laws made in pursuance of it.

"The people are the Fountain of sovereignty. The whole was originally with them as their own. The state governments are but trustees acting under a derived authority, and had no power to delegate what is not delegated to them. But the people, as the original Fountain, might take away what they have lent and in trust to whom they please. They have the whole title, and as absolute proprietors, have the right of using or abusing. - jus utendi et abutendi. It is a maxim consecrated in public law as well as common sense and the necessity of the case that a Sovereign is answerable for his acts only to his God and his own conscience ... There is no authority above a Sovereign to which an appeal can be made." 4 Wheat, 402 (Bouvier's 14th Edition Law Dictionary: "Sovereignty").

This is just a peek into the issue of sovereignty. Hopefully, the lights are getting brighter and we are better understanding... Who's on First, and Who's on Second, and What's on Third!

The International Sovereigns Association (ISA) provides the formal extensive process of agreement that you are the sovereign by the governor, the President and the UN and you can be a sovereign member within the association of other sovereigns. 'Tax'

it states, "When required by regulations prescribed by the Secretary any person made liable for any tax imposed by this title, or with respect to the collection thereof, shall make a return or statement according to the forms and regulations prescribed by the Secretary. Every person required to make a return or statement shall include therein the information required by such forms or regulations." Title 26 USC 6012 states, "(a) General rule. Returns with respect to income taxed under Subtitle A [26 USCS §§ 1 et seq.] shall be made by the following: (1)(A) Every person having for the taxable year gross income which equals or exceeds the exemption amount." and then goes on to list the exceptions to the filing requirement. Furthermore, IRC sections 6011 and 6012 apply only to "taxpayers," persons who create and/or receive "gross [taxable] income." These IRC sections do not apply to people who merely receive private (gross) receipts in exchange for their most precious private property, their labor and time, Economy Plumbing & Heating, Co -v- United States, 470 F.2d 85, 589 (Ct.Cl. 1972). There is no UNITED STATES STATUTES AT LARGE that requires that the People of the several states: (1) declare their private (gross) receipts to be "gross income", or (2) declare that they are "taxpayers" when they are not "taxpayers". Economy Plumbing & Heating, Co., Inc.

Neither 26 USC § 6011 nor 6012 makes anyone liable for any tax, and neither code section requires anyone to disclose any information to the IRS relating to a "particular tax." Thus, IRC §§ 6011 and 6012 fail to provide any "statutory authority" to the IRS to collect any information from anyone. Now, this is the kicker, on line 24 of the OMB Form SF-83 which the IRS filed on June 18, 1986, that the "Respondents' obligation to comply [with filing Form 10401 is "Mandatory". On the "Review" OMB Form 83-I filed on September 16, 1998 the IRS again states that the "Obligation to respond [to file a 1040 Form] is "Mandatory". However, neither the SF-83, 83-I, the Form 1040, or the Form 1040 instruction manual advise the "taxpayer" of the actual tax statute (the "Act of Congress") which makes the disclosure of the information sought by the IRS on the Form 1040 mandatory. This is the proof that the IRS has committed overt fraud and constructive fraud. In order to obtain a valid OMB number, there must be a Statuary Authority (an Act of Congress) authorizing or sponsoring a collection of information. Without such authority, the OMB number is invalid. The reason that the IRS an invalid statutory authority is really quite simple, none exists! The private (gross) receipts of what might be deemed (gross receipts) as taxable income was settled way back in 1920 by the United States Supreme Court and this case has never been overturned. The case is Eisner -v- Macomber, 252 U.S. 189 (1920), "...it becomes essential to distinguish between what is, and what is not 'income'... Congress may not, by any

The Purpose

Paralegal/Prisoner Department for the Americans Bulletin
Vanessa Fimbres

The purpose of REDEMPTION and this edification is for those who care enough to do something with it. This information is referenced and documented. Some of it is theory and is stated as theory. We live in a world of fiction, the Land of Oz, where fact is hard to find. The information I have provided in past articles and news letters is to help you distinguish between fiction and the fact of what actually is.

This information is designed to assist everyone to realize that they are free beings, with unlimited potential, who can create their own world, and be responsible for all events that occur in their life. It is not the purpose of this information to be presented as fixed unchangeable truth. Instead, it is information you must prove for yourself, for your understanding. This will enable you to free your mind so you can create exactly what you want.

I get numerous calls everyday from people who are wrapped up in legal and personal problems, people who are attempting to learn and apply the process called REDEMPTION. Trying to gain information on discharging their bonds (Bid bond, performance bond, payment bond) to regain their freedom. People who want to learn about discharging their debts, their Mortgage, child support, and Taxes. I personally only have so many hours in the day to answer questions and direct people to what they need to learn and where to find it. There are a few of us doing a lot of work - the point I'm getting to is: LEARN, Learn, learn, the only way to truly understand if what you are doing is right, is to learn about it yourself. There is A LOT of misinformation that will NOT get you the remedy you desire, a lot of which might ultimately cause you more harm than good.

Understand that the REDEMPTION Process itself - filing a UCC1 or UCC3- DOES NOT ERASE ALL DEBT or make you immune to outside forces. When filing a UCC1 you are taking back title to the Corporate Entity that was created at birth and evidenced by and through your Birth Certificate, this is an account and you are actually the fiduciary trustee of. The UCC filing gives the System notice of your standing and capacity, that you the flesh and blood person are separated from the 'strawman' corporate entity, have placed a lien on related contracts and have become CEO of your corporation and now can float around on the seas of commerce. Your strawman is your vessel who deals in commerce. Now understand there is NO "Money" to pay off your debts. There is no money in circulation. To understand this read the Congressional Records: March 9, 1933- PLHJR192 (US Bankruptcy), Read the 153 Congressional Record June 5th, 1933 (they put a lien on all people and future people wherein we become the Creditors), read Modern Money Mechanics out of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago to understand that "money" has no value. Read the definition of 'money' in Blacks Law Dictionary and trace it back, forward and around to understand that we can only discharge debt with "commercial paper" and negotiable instruments.

Look up the word "PERSON" in a Blacks Law dictionary. It is defined rather different then you would assumed it meant. The world and 'The System' is not what most of us have perceived. 'The System' has been in perfect practice of their deception and hidden agendas far longer then we as a public have been paying attention. THE TIME IS NOW. This process is life changing, if you are not prepared or willing to live in honor and free with your own personal responsibility this process is not for you. These process's applied correctly and with the right intent open doors. I've seen it first hand and have lived it for several years. the race card and away from the real issue - the theft of our future through taxation.

These publicity mongers are well aware of the oppression brought on by income taxation, they love to march on Washington about racial profiling and civil rights, not to say that these are not real problems, but these leaders have been too afraid to approach the powers that be and have a million man, woman, boy, girl march about economic freedom from income taxation and restoration of constitutional rights.

(And they have the nerve to call Clarence Thomas an Uncle Tom.)

Also, there's been a lot of talk about reparations lately, but know this: If all Americans were able to keep the money withheld from their paychecks every year, that money would enable them to home school, start their own business and boost the economy, save for college and retirement, even buy that 40 acres and a mule. So, you be the judge.

You need to understand that with an Internal Revenue Code, Code of Federal Regulations, and other "official documents" spouting off several different definitions of United States, Internal Revenue Service and other important terms, this deception that keeps people ignorant is not a coincidence. The writers of the Code used semantics and legalese to make us think that we are required to pay the income tax and file an income tax return. Former IRS commissioner Shirley Peterson even stated that, and I quote, "Eight decades of amendments....to (the) code have produced a virtually impenetrable maze....The rules are unintelligible to most citizens....The rules are equally mysterious to many government employees who are charged with administering and enforcing the law." End quote.

This fraud was strung together by people like the former president that said "it depends on what your definition of is is" and "it depends on what your definition of sex is". This incident showed us that definitions are very important to politicians and lawyers, and no word is meaningless. For example, it does depend on what the definition of "source" is.

The opposition, in an attempt to keep the sheeple in the flock, will scoff at us and encourage unaware Americans to ridicule those of us who have been informed, saying, "these people just don't want to pay their fair share." We have already learned from a speech by former Federal Reserve Chairman Beardsley Rhuml that this country doesn't need income taxes for revenue. This money collected from our sweat and tears is used to perpetuate redistribution of wealth, among other things. But the powers that be keep beating the people over the head with this "fair share" garbage. Well, what is fair share? Haven't the families of the victims in New York City and the pentagon paid their fair share? Haven't the men and women that lost sons and daughters, husbands in wives in Vietnam, Korea and the other battles paid their fair share? So you see, this tactic to pit those that are uninformed of the income tax fraud against those who have seen the light is baseless and must be eliminated!

The opposition also uses our religious faith to twist the meaning of authority and to create unjust statutes. People, I know godly authority and our current system does not reflect godly authority. Many of our past and present religious leaders have been jailed for questioning authority. They have been beaten, starved and even killed for their faith and their defiance of injustice. People of America - is what you're living for worth dying for? Are you willing to take a stand? It's your choice.

The creators of this Creature called the income tax, engineered their system to manipulate you into staying in your comfort zones. With a little bit of patriotism and a little bit of fear tactic mixed into a pot of inflation and deflation, they have been able to keep the people confused, intimidated and obedient for over 88 years.

But now the truth about the fraudulent origin and operations of the Federal Reserve System and the Internal Revenue Service have been revealed to the American people.

You can no longer claim ignorance of the truth. You must acknowledge it or reject it. The choice is yours. And the consequences of your decision will rest on the shoulders of your children and future generations of Americans.

You can remain an informed slave or you can get off of the plantation. You can remain engrossed in fear, or you can take a stand like Patrick Henry who shouted "give me liberty or give me death." You can stay hypnotized by "As The World Turns" and "The Guiding Light", or you can turn off the tube and read the Constitution, then go ask your elected representatives why they refuse to follow it. Remember that those elected representatives have sworn to uphold and defend our constitution.

Remember that each of our elected representatives has pledged to serve our country first-not a political party, or certain privileged and special interests groups-but you, the American People. They are our public servants.

In closing, we have shown you the truth. Now, for the sake of our Country and our children, we ask you to choose justice over injustice, unity over division, courage over fear, truth over ignorance, and liberty over economic slavery. We ask you to stand with us and let the voice of freedom be heard from every corner of our great country. It is time to end this long-standing injustice and tyranny over the American People.

Thank you.

ACTUAL AUSTRALIAN COURT DOCKET 12659 CASE OF THE PREGNANT LADY

A lady about 8 months pregnant got on a bus. She noticed the man opposite her was smiling at her. She immediately moved to another seat.

This time the smile turned into a grin, so she moved again. The man seemed more amused.

When on the fourth move, the man burst out laughing, she complained to the driver and he had the man arrested.

The case came up in court. The judge asked the man (about 20 years old) what he had to say for himself.

The man replied, "Well your Honor, it was like this: When the lady got on the bus, I couldn't help but notice her condition. She sat down under a sign that said, 'The Double Mint Twins are Comin' and I grinned."

"Then she moved and sat under a sign that said, 'Logan's Liniment will reduce the swelling', and I had to smile. "Then she placed herself under a deodorant sign that said, "William's Big Stick Did the Trick", and I could hardly contain myself."

"BUT, your Honor, when She moved the fourth time and sat under a sign that said, 'Goodyear Rubber could have prevented this Accident'... I just lost it."

‘Water’

of Santa Monica, in response to California Public Records Act requests for information about the water system (Attachments 5 & 6). Santa Monica was one of the cities initially contacted by this reporter, and the responses to those requests are contained in the link to the original article.

This letter, signed by Eugenia Jimenez for Assistant City Attorney Joseph Lawrence, states that my requests for blueprints and for contracts with private companies are “highly sensitive and jeopardize the security of the City.” You may note by re-visiting the “Public Extermination Project” article that Joe Lawrence also put his name to a letter in 2004 stating that there were no records whatsoever on water work in Santa Monica, California.

I have also attached two photographs of blueprints of the Los Angeles water system (Attachments 7 & 8). Through a bit of studiously disingenuous Irish blarney, this reporter was able to view and photograph some of the non-redacted blueprints from the Ardmore Street Project.

I located an ongoing work site, and arrived in the late morning. I had sidled up to a small group of Creamer employees who were digging up a section of the street. While the crews are buttressing the aging pipes with cement, they are also replacing the manually operated valves with remote controlled valves. This is critical to the deployment of this weapons system. More about these valves a little later on.

I chatted with the forklift operator for a bit. I told him I was a reporter covering infrastructure work. “How boring,” he commented. I made a face and agreed. We talked a little, and I asked if I could get a gander at the blueprints. He agreed and asked another crew member to retrieve the plans from the truck. Immediately, I sat down on the curb and began to shoot.

Within a few minutes, he realized that I was photographing the blueprints. He got off the lift and walked over to me. “Hey,” he said uneasily, “I don’t know who you are. We are in very strange times. You could be a terrorist....” His voice trailed off.

I smiled at him, as disarmingly as possible, and quickly stuck my cameras in my pocket. “Oh my goodness,” I said. “I don’t want to worry you. Here, take back the plans.” And then I winked at him. “Actually,” I said, “I am Osama bin Laden. They shrunk me and gave me a sex change, so the CIA could never find me. Pretty clever, wouldn’t you say?”

He laughed. The moment of suspicion had passed. He took the plans back to the truck, and my cameras remained safe inside my pocket.

“Hey, listen to this!” he said to his buddies on the crew. “She’s Osama!” Everyone had a good laugh. I stayed a few more minutes, chatting with the guys, then took off, my cameras and photographs secure.

The two attached photos from the Ardmore Street project were taken that day with a cell phone camera. The second line is in evidence in both photos, which delineate separate streets in the Ardmore Street Cement Re-lining Project.

One of my detractors, Harry Mobley, of Alton, Illinois, has stated that the existence of two lines is “normal.” Mobley writes, “.... but second lines are there already. That’s normal. It’s a backup to feed around any breaks when certain lines have to be closed down for repair. This way, the problem affects the least amount of customers.”

If that were in fact true, the city would not need to lay down temporary, gutter lines while doing this infrastructure work. As the City of Los Angeles needs to provide a continuity of water service while working on the main lines, and if the second lines were indeed, as Mobley stated, only back-up lines and NOT containing another substance, the temporary gutter lines in evidence in the following photograph would not be necessary. The city would simply utilize its back-up line, and would not incur the added work and expense of laying down gutter pipe. The attached photograph of gutter line during a recent cement re-lining project was taken at Washington Boulevard, in Los Angeles, California (Attachment 9).

The blueprints I photographed in 2006 from the Ardmore Street Project do not appear to be as complete as the ones I first viewed back in 2004, while the City was working on the Washington/La Brea area, nor as complete as the Spokane prints. Engineers, architects and others with access to water blueprints will affirm that there are layers of work that have been done on the underground utilities throughout the years, and different sets of blueprints will reveal varying levels of complexity in delineating the systems. The blueprints I first viewed in Los Angeles, courtesy of an on-site foreman, revealed not only the existence of double lines, but access lines connecting the two lines at regular intervals. This was also revealed in the plans from the Spokane system.

The L.A. plans had also revealed “crosses” in front of every residence on that street. I had incorrectly designated these as “tees” in my first publication on the water weapon. Tees, be they tee fixtures or tee valves, have three ports. Crosses have four ports. The significance of tees and crosses in the water system is that three or more ports provide the possibility to introduce another substance into the primary line.

For purposes of clarification as to the functions of tees, I have attached a photo of an exposed tee, taken at Casa Las Rosas in Los Angeles, in 2005 (Attachment 10). As you will see, there are three ports, or accesses. As water cannot flow both East/West and West/East at the same time, two of the ports provide for the uninterrupted flow of water in one direction. The third port would allow for the possibility of an introduction of a substance from another line into the main line.

A valve would be necessary to control the introduction of a substance from another source. Without a control valve, the two substances would be freely intermingling.

My original assumption that tee valves were involved in this system may not be entirely accurate. Virgil Diaz, who is a sales rep for Mueller, which has acquired U.S. Pipe, advanced my understanding of this system by pointing out that gate valves positioned on tee joints serve the same function as tee, or three port, valves. The same would go for gate valves on cross joints. The red valve depicted in the second photo on the “Public Extermination Project” article is, in fact, a gate valve, which is a two port valve. The first photo depicts a gate valve on a tee joint.

The original article had stated that the red valves were manufactured by Tyton. They are, in fact, manufactured by U.S. Pipe. An overview of the officers of U.S. Pipe reveals a very compelling history. Ray Torok, President of U.S. Pipe, previously spent twenty five years at Alcoa, as Vice President and General Manager of the Aerospace Division. Walter Knollenberg, VP of Finance and Treasurer of U.S. Pipe, previously served as VP of Finance and Chief Financial Officer of Burns Aerospace Corporation. Aerospace companies are generally known for their government contracts, including spy satellites, etc. It would be an unusual career path from aerospace to plumbing. Unless, of course, there is a direct connection between the satellites and the water system.

And apparently there is. The ROM Communications website provides a diagram which depicts how remote controlled water valves can be accessed off a computer, lap top or even cell phone (Attachment 11). As shown in the diagram, the originating signal goes into the internet and up to a satellite, which can then relay the signal to the items featured on the left hand side of the diagram. Please note the inclusion of the water valve as a “remote asset” in the far left of the diagram. I have also attached a photo of gate valves stacked up in the City Yard in Santa Monica, California (Attachment 12). You will note the chalked in numbers on the valves on the bottom row. These appear to be RFID addresses

The ability to control these valves from a remote location is a necessary component of this system. The system has been configured for a mass kill—therefore, it would be wildly impractical and ludicrously inefficient to attempt to dispatch teams of workers throughout the broad sweep of this country to dig up the streets and manually turn all the valves at the designated time of deployment. The valves would need to be solenoid, or remote controlled. Thus, at the time of deployment, after determination had been made as to which locations house the targets and which will be “passed over,” one would need only throw a switch to open the valves. And the twisted vision which compelled Prescott Bush, who was the money man in the U.S. for Adolph Hitler, would be brought to fruition under the reign of his grandson, President George W. Bush.

In a taped interview in March of 2006, Ali Sabouni, the Resident Engineer for the Ardmore Street Project, stated emphatically that “There is no such thing as a remote controlled water valve.” When further questioned as to how timed sprinkler systems operate, he sputtered, then back-tracked. “Those are small valves,” he said, lamely.

Small valves. What a relief. Then we really have nothing to worry about.

For Ali Sabouni, who is in charge of the Ardmore Street Project, one of thousands of such projects across the country, Ali Sabouni, who refused to tell me the country of his birth or where he obtained his Master’s Degree in Engineering, Ali Sabouni tells me that remote controlled sprinkler valves are small valves.

I’m sure glad we cleared that up.

Hitler had his showers. Bush has his water lines.

God help us all.

PROOF OF FEDERAL JURISDICTION - REWARD $5,000

To the first person who can prove that Our Federal government has jurisdiction over all substances manufactured or possessed in the United States. U.S. Supreme Court case law cite with page number required.

The famous Wickard v. Filburn (1942) case, relied on by our U.S. Attorneys, Federal judges and Supreme Court Justices to claim jurisdiction under the interstate commerce clause, actually says quite the opposite: It is of the essence of regulation that it lays a restraining hand on the self-interest of the regulated and that advantages from the regulation commonly fall to others. ...the Government gave the farmer a choice which was, of course, designed to encourage cooperation and discourage non-cooperation. It is hardly lack of due process for the Government to regulate that which it subsidizes. - Wickard (317 US 111,129-131)

Because Filburn was accepting benefits (subsidy prices for his wheat), he was liable for the agency's penalties, as he was in violation of the program regulations. Were any of the "others", those farmers who did NOT register to receive benefits, prosecuted under commerce clause powers? Of course not, they grew all the wheat they wanted.

The fraudulently applied holdings of the Wickard case have been used by our government again and again since 1942 to extend their jurisdiction into every area of our lives. The most notorious achievement of this fraud is the Controlled Substance Act of 1970, in which our government claimed jurisdiction over all drugs via commerce holdings from Wickard. War was then declared on certain drugs and still continues, with no end in sight.

In 2004 Attorney Allison Margolin challenged Federal jurisdiction with a motion to dismiss charges (U.S. v. Landa), in which she stated: The precedent upon which the federal government's ability to govern interstate commerce, Wickard v. Filburn, is premised upon the fact that the plaintiff in that case registered in a federal program. ...the Wickard basis of jurisdiction is inapplicable here.

Similar motions by others are currently in our Federal District Courts, our Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, and in our Supreme Court. These defendants are also non-registrants, not accepting benefit from FDA, DEA or any Federal agency or program for substances. To this day, no Federal judge has ruled on these motions or even addressed this issue, never mind citing an authority establishing Federal jurisdiction over non-registrants.

The People's right to due process can only be upheld through court rulings; failure to rule is a deprivation of the People's right to due process of law. Pretending there is an authority establishing jurisdiction is a deprivation of rights under color of law US Criminal Code, § 242, calls for prison sentences for "whoever" is in violation. Does "whoever" include judges and attorneys, as well as our defense attorneys who standby and silently witness the crime?

We must remember always that accusation is not proof, and that conviction depends upon evidence and due process of law. We will not walk in fear, one of another. We will not be driven by fear into an age of unreason, if we dig deep in our history and our doctrine, and remember that we are not descended from fearful men, not from men who feared to write, to speak, to associate, and to defend causes that were for the moment unpopular. - Edward R. Murrow first published in February

As contributions continue by individuals, desiring resolution of this issue, the Reward Amount has exceeded $5,000. The Reward is subject to a 30-day notice of withdrawal posted on the website.

Dear Federal Prisoners:

We are offering this Wanted Poster that you may have a chance to resolve this issue and to claim the Reward. The Reward was first published in February 2006 and to date there have not been any claims submitted. We know of five Federal defendants who have filed the motion to dismiss for lack of jurisdiction, and not one of these motions has been ruled on. If you are unable to find the government's jurisdiction, you might want to send a copy of the poster to your Attorney, your prosecuting attorney, and your Judge to see if they can find the authority establishing Federal jurisdiction over non-registrants.

There are only three possibilities. Either, they can cite the authority, which would resolve the issue and uphold our right to due process, as well as earn them the reward; they agree that there is no federal jurisdiction over non-registrants; or they don't respond, which can only indicate their continued participation in this fraud, which is a deprivation of your right to due process of law. Pretending there is a law that establishes jurisdiction is a crime at 18 USC Section 242. This crime has a victim with injuries and damages. If you are a victim, it is up to you to respond, or say nothing, and continue suffering the deprivation of your rights along with the other 100,000 Federal Drug War prisoners.

You might consider contacting some of the many groups that claim to advocate for prisoners' rights but maintain their silence regarding this fraud.

And you may consider filing a Motion to Dismiss for Lack of Agency Jurisdiction for your own case, modeled after that filed by Attorney Allison Margolin. This motion can be printed out from www.commonsenselaw.com. We hope you will pass this oil to others who have had their rights violated. When a number of prisoners, with support from others, start challenging jurisdiction and exposing this fraud, won't the system falter and begin changing? Until then, it will be "business as usual" as our government continues to build prisons for those not in line with the party politics.

Bleach vs. Peroxide

Author Unknown

I would like to tell you of the benefits of that plain little ole bottle of 3% peroxide you can get for under $1.00 at any drug store.

My husband has been in the medical field for over 36 years, and most doctors don't tell you about peroxide. Have you ever smelled bleach in a doctor's office? NO!!! Why? Because it smells, and it is not healthy! Ask the nurses who work in the doctor's offices, and ask them if they use bleach at home. They are wiser and know better!

Did you also know bleach was invented in the late 40's? It's chlorine, Folks! And it was used to kill our troops. Peroxide was invented during WWI in the 20's. It was used to save and help cleanse the needs of our troops and hospitals. Please think about this.

1. Take one capful (the little white cap that comes with the bottle and hold in your mouth for 10 minutes daily, then spit it out. (I do it when I bathe.) No more canker sores, and your teeth will be whiter without expensive pastes. Use it instead of mouthwash.

2. Let your toothbrushes soak in a cup of peroxide to keep them free of germs.

3. Clean your counters and table tops with peroxide to kill germs and leave a fresh smell. Simply put a little on your dishrag when you wipe, or spray it on the counters.

4. After rinsing off your wooden cutting board, pour peroxide on it to kill salmonella and other bacteria.

5. I had fungus on my feet for years until I sprayed a 50/50 mixture of peroxide and water on them (especially the toes) every night and let dry.

6. Soak any infections or cuts in 3% peroxide for five to ten minutes several times a day. My husband has seen gangrene that would not heal with any medicine but was healed by soaking in peroxide.

7. Fill a spray bottle with a 50/50 mixture of peroxide and water and keep it in every bathroom to disinfect without harming your septic system like bleach or most other disinfectants will.

8. Tilt your head back and spray into nostrils with your 50/50 mixture whenever you have a cold, plugged sinus. It will bubble and help to Kill the bacteria. Hold for a few minutes, and then blow your nose into a tissue.

9. If you have a terrible toothache and cannot get to a dentist right away, put a capful of 3% peroxide into your mouth and hold it for ten minutes several times a day. The pain will lessen greatly.

10. And of course, if you like a natural look to your hair, spray the 50/50 solution on your wet hair after a shower and comb it through. You will not have the peroxide-burnt blonde hair like the hair dye packages but more natural highlights if your hair is a light brown, faddish, or dirty blonde. It also lightens gradually, so it's not a drastic change.

11. Put half a bottle of peroxide in your bath to help rid boils, fungus, or other skin infections.

12. You can also add a cup of peroxide instead of bleach to a load of whites in your laundry to whiten them. If there is blood on clothing, pour it directly on the soiled spot. Let it sit for a minute, then rub it and rinse with cold water. Repeat if necessary.

13. I use peroxide to clean my mirrors. There is no smearing, which is why I love it so much for this. I could go on and on. It is a little brown bottle no home should be without! With prices of most necessities rising, I'm glad there's a way to save tons of money in such a simple, healthy manner!

This information really woke me up. I hope you gain something from it, too.

. . . . Go for it It might really make a difference . . . and let us know. . .OK ??

had to file a stolen camera and sound equipment report with the FBI (which Sheriff Charles Phipps would not take) to file a fraudulent insurance claim with Firemen's Fund Insurance Company for a new camera and sound equipment to replace the ten year old camera and sound equipment, and prosecute John Patrick and the Freeman for a violation of the Hobbs Act 18 USC §1951(a).

There are a number of published California cases on ABC's "Paparazzi" Ambush Journalism. John Patrick is being denied access to an adequate law library to research and prosecute his claim of "Actual, Factual, Innocence," in addition, on September 5, 2005 all of John Patrick's legal files and law books were seized at FCI Butler, North Carolina and shipped to California to hinder, impede and prevent him from prosecuting his claims.

What is the Hobbs Act? Did the Freeman violate it-NO!!!

The Hobbs act was enacted by Congress in 1934, which makes it a federal offense to commit robbery or extortion that in any way or degree obstructs commerce. It was amended in 1946 to include extortionate conduct by labor unions. The courts read the legislative history of the 1934 Act to indicate that Congress enacted the 1934 legislation to eliminate racketeering by organized gangs, which was found to have a substantial effect on interstate commerce, particularly the interstate transportation industry. Many businesses were being forced to pay dues for "protection" by gangsters who would engage in "hijacking." The 1934 Act was intended to make unlawful racketeering "in connection with price fixing an economic extortion directed by professional gangs according to the Bills sponsor Senator Copeland, the legislation was intended to "render more difficult the activities of predatory gangs". The 1934 Act was amended to address highway robbery by organized labor unions and was intended to protect individuals and goods in interstate commerce "trying to deliver food into the various big cities and to "free the streets and highways of robbers." The Act was subjected specific.

Since the 1946 re-enactment in the Hobbs Act the court has read §1951 to "manifest a purpose to use all the constitutional power Congress has to punish interference with interstate commerce by extortion, robbery or physical violence."

The Supreme Court in 2003 held in Scheidler v. Now, the anti-abortion protectors did not violate 1951, "merely interfering with or depriving someone of property" was not sufficient to violate §1951. In 2006 the Supreme Court again ruled in Scheidler v.

Now there had to be a plan or purpose to interfere with interstate commerce.

"Paparazzi" ABC Primetime Live Associate Producer Allison Sesnon and the Bowers neither were nor engaged in interstate transportation of goods, or the sale of merchandise flowing through interstate commerce. Nor for that matter are the Montana Freeman a part of Organized Crime gang, or any widespread criminal activity that Congress had in mind when it enacted the Hobbs Act. John Patrick and the Freeman were on their own property minding their own business, when invaded by the "Paparazzi" and had every right to protect their privacy from the "Nuisance."

martial law, seize and control all transportation and communication, regulate the operation of private enterprise, restrict travel, and, in a variety of ways, control the lives of United States citizens."

The CRS study notes that the National Emergency Act sets up congress as a balance empowered to "modify, rescind, or render dormant such delegated emergency authority," if Congress believes the president has acted inappropriately.

NSPD-51/ HSPD-20 appears to supersede the National Emergency Act by creating the new position of National Continuity Coordinator without any specific act of Congress authorizing the position.

NSPD-51/ HSPD-20 also makes no reference whatsoever to Congress. The language of the May 9 directive appears to negate any a requirement that the President submit to Congress a determination that a national emergency exists, suggesting instead that the powers of the executive order can be implemented without any congressional approval or oversight.

Homeland Security spokesperson Russ Knocke affirmed that the Homeland Security Department will be implementing the requirements of NSPD-51/HSPD-20 under Townsend's direction.

The White House had no comment.

While we're skeptical Bush will have the cojones to pull this off, NSPD-51 is particularly ominous in light of the draconian provisions of the 2007 National Defense Authorization Act. <http://www4report.com/node/3858>

Spitzer: No to National Guard "federalization"

Submitted by Bill Weinberg on Tue,

05/15/2007 - 18:57.

New York Gov. Eliot Spitzer threw his support behind a proposal to curtail the president's recently expanded powers to take charge of the National Guard in domestic crises. "Given the Guard's growing importance in local emergencies, we are concerned about having the president assume more control over the Guard," said the governor's spokeswoman, Christine Anderson. Spitzer was reacting to a change in the National Defense Authorization Act of 2007 that expanded the president's ability to "federalize" the Guard during terrorist attacks, natural disasters, pandemics and other emergencies, without consulting the governors. RIFE FREQUENCY GENERATOR

Frequency Generators have had success in treating and eliminating dis-ease, parasites, allergies, toxins, tumors, bacterial infections and an array of other health concerns. Thousands of frequencies are available to treat the least to the most extraordinary issues. Updates and new frequencies being found have no limit in the research arena. The RPG-900 is of the advanced technology of its original inventor; Royal Rife, who's laboratory was destroyed by the federal government back in the 40's. But his research was saved and his life-enhancing 'frequency generators' continued to be manufactured with the most advanced electronic technology today in the current model utilizing that research as found in the RPG-900. State of the Art home treatment for a wide application of health issues has never been easier.

RPG-900 FREQUENCY GENERATOR

We have electrical energy in our body, not just static electricity but amps and volts.

There are many chemical reactions inside our bodies. We now know that electricity causes chemical reactions, and electricity causes stimulation to different cells. Every cell in our body has a membrane, in which there is an electrical charge.

Electrical vibrations can weaken viruses or bacteria so the body's immune system can attack them.

In the 1930's, the great scientific genius Royal Rife discovered that all life forms vibrate at different frequencies. For example, the viral form of Herpes vibrates at a different frequency than Malaria. These frequencies are measurable and can be programmed into software in the form of binary numbers.

The same way sound waves can break windows, can be used to explode or implode different cells.

The louder the sound the more intense the frequencies. This is the same principle when working with the Rife machine. After calibrating the Rife Machine, you can use the programming technique to challenge your body with over 4,000 stimuli. (destroy harmful virus and bacteria!)

When new and/or different frequencies prove to be effective the Rife Machine can be reprogrammed.

The RPG-900 Frequency Generator uses programs that contain certain frequencies. Every frequency does something different. The RPG-900 Frequency Generator will never become obsolete as new frequencies are identified because it can be reprogrammed any number of times through a computer by means of a special cable that plugs into the rear of the instrument.

Latest News on the FDA

By Mike Adams

The U.S. Senate passed the FDA “drug safety” bill in May (S.1082) with a 93-1 vote. A key amendment that would have called for genuine drug safety protections for consumers -- the Grassley amendment 1039 -- was defeated by a single vote (47 to 46). The new law deepens financial ties between Big Pharma and the FDA, doubling the amount of money directly paid to the regulator by drug companies, but it fails to explicitly protect foods and nutritional supplements from overreaching FDA regulation efforts. The new law also failed to end Big Pharma’s monopoly stranglehold on American consumers, further blocking the ability of citizens, businesses, cities and states to import equivalent medications from countries like Canada (where drugs are far safer than those sold in the United States, by any measure).

Health freedom advocates such as Byron Richards of Wellness Resources (www.WellnessResources.com), John Hammel of the International Advocates for Health Freedom (www.IAHF.com), and myself (www.NewsTarget.com) sought to garner enough grassroots support for achieving the inclusion of key amendments in the bill, such as the Dorgan amendment which, for four days, appeared to end the medical monopoly that currently forces American consumers to pay the highest prices in the world for prescription drugs. Although hundreds of thousands of consumers contacted their lawmakers to demand an end to the monopoly price fixing currently operating in the United States, lawmakers seemed confused and could not bring themselves to support any amendment that would have threatened the profits of Big Pharma. Ultimately, the Dorgan amendment was quickly defeated by the Cochran amendment, trapping Americans in a monopoly medical market that would be considered illegal by nearly everyone if a corporation like Microsoft attempted something similar.

S.1082 ultimately passed with amendments that primarily support the agendas of Big Pharma and the FDA, expanding the powers of both. Very few provisions were accepted that addressed the serious issues of corruption, conflicts of interest, television drug advertising or genuine drug safety.

Health freedom advocates are now characterizing the final bill as the, “Big Pharma Protection Act of 2007” due to its emphasis on protecting the monopoly drug market in the United States while doing very little to accomplish its stated goals of increasing the “safety” of prescription drugs.

Analysis by Mike Adams (opinion)

The passage of S.1082 is a terrible defeat for Americans, but a huge victory for Big Pharma and the FDA. The bill expands the FDA’s powers and keeps in place a hugely profitable Big Pharma monopoly over U.S. consumers that is right now bankrupting our nation.

At every step, Big Pharma-funded lawmakers voted to minimize any real safety scrutiny and chose instead to dress up their drug-promoting agendas as “public safety” measures. In the end, the only thing that’s really safe is the revenue stream of drug companies. An illegal monopoly on prescription drugs has now been officially sanctioned by the U.S. Senate, and organized medicine today is now unquestionably operating as a system of organized crime. Lawmakers have been paid off, regulators have been influenced, and the media is being bought with advertising dollars. Big Pharma now has a near-total chokehold over everything to do with medicine in the United States, from what is taught in medical schools to what’s accepted as “scientific” by the medical journals. The takeover of America by drug companies is now nearly complete.

Of note, the most profitable corporations in the world -- the drug companies -- have now demonstrated majority control over the United States government. From this point forward, government and private industry will now act as one incestuous, unstoppable entity to trap American consumers in a system of fraudulent medicine designed to do nothing more than extract dollars from their pockets. No meaningful reform will be tolerated. No limits on FDA tyranny will even be openly discussed.

During this rare window of opportunity for real, positive change that could have protected Americans from the predatory marketing practices of criminally-operated drug companies, our lawmakers utterly failed us. Our Senators have sold out to Big Pharma influence, and through their votes, they have doomed the United States to inevitable medical bankruptcy that threatens the future of the nation itself.

As corporations continue to flee the U.S. due to overwhelming health care costs, our own Senators believe a monopoly drug racket should continue to be protected! They believe that the FDA should have even more power over consumers, and that the American people should be treated as medical guinea pigs, involuntarily taking part in a massive drug experiment called, “Test the drugs on the population.” Any real safety issues will only be dealt with after the fact -- after they’ve killed hundreds of thousands more Americans.

Chemical warfare against the American people

With the passage of S.1082 and the emboldening of the FDA and Big Pharma, a war has been declared on the American people, and it is far more dangerous than any terrorist action. It is a war against Americans’ health, and the U.S. Senate has now condemned itself as a band of sellouts for giving official legislative approval for the waging of that war against Americans. It is a war that will produce millions of casualties over the next decade. Dropping a nuclear bomb over a major American city would kill fewer people than the FDA / Big Pharma / Big Government agenda will now kill, thanks to the actions of our lawmakers. (And that’s using statistics from the Journal of the American Medical Association, by the way.) As shameless as ever, this dangerous law has been sold to consumers as a “drug safety” bill.

But prescription drugs are not safe, even if they are purchased at the highest retail prices in the world. (Paying more for a drug does not make it safer.) FDA-approved prescription drugs have killed far more Americans than all the terrorists events recorded in American history, combined! The FDA is the single greatest threat to the health and safety of the American people, and today, with the passage of S.1082, the U.S. Senate has clearly said that it believes the FDA should have even more power over the people. Apparently, enough Americans have not died yet. The body count has not yet reached a number sufficient to override campaign funding bribes paid to senators by drug companies. The pharmaceutical holocaust is not yet large enough to demand real reform.

It is my belief that with this vote, U.S. Senators have betrayed their nation. They have sold out the health and safety of the American people to the wealthiest and most profitable corporations in the world: Drug companies. Our senators have stolen from the poor and given to the rich. They’ve allowed a criminal price-fixing enterprise to continue dominating medicine in America today, and they’ve failed to take any meaningful action to deliver what Americans demand the most: Free market access to medications that are provably safe and effective.

Our Senate has failed us, just as conventional medicine and the FDA have failed us. Today is a sad day in the history of these United States, for it is a signpost that announces the fact that from now on, our government shall operate solely in the interest of corporations.

Lincoln’s Gettysburg Address once described a government “of the people, by the people and for the people.” Today, that dream is unquestionably lost. As my CounterThink cartoon depicts below, we are now a nation of the corporations, by the corporations and for the corporations.

The U.S. Senate has now positioned itself as the adversary of the American people when it comes to any decisions involving health or medicine, and most people in this nation have no idea what just happened. Our Prozac-popping populace is too mind-numbed by prescription drugs to save themselves from a medicated future of personal and national bankruptcy. I advise all remaining sane citizens to start making plans now to protect themselves from the new merger of Big Pharma and Big Government. S.1082 has all come down to one thing: a Big Medical Scam.

Stress cause of all illness?

Many scientists now believe that mental and emotional stress (continuous worries, doubts and fears, or living with anxiety, compromise, bad relationships, hopelessness, lack of self confidence and loneliness, etc.) can play a major role in suppressing our immune function, a leading factor in health breakdowns.

Worldwide health care practitioners are advocating stress reduction. Dr. Coldwell takes it a step further and addresses the root cause of the stress. By eliminating the root cause of stress, the immune system is boosted resulting in among other things an unbelievable energy boost.

UPDATE ON THE USE OF BILLS OF EXCHANGE:

It is necessary for One to fully understand the money issue and the monetary conditions that exists within this country and the State wherein you live.

The States(s) have aided and betted in the removal of 'lawful constitutional money of exchange' to 'Pay debts at law!'

Since One cannot be compelled to do the impossible, you cannot take out of your pocket or from your check book 'money of substance' to pay for anything.

One can exchange all kinds of paper out there in the Matrix/commercial world. But the question to ask yourself in respect to your 'Checking Account' is; "WHAT'S IN MY CHECKING ACCOUNT?"... Answer; "why, only 'bookkeeping entries!'" Certainly not gold or silver and certainly not money! As Walker F. Todd, ret. Legal counsel for the federal reserve bank says in his affidavit; "Legal tender, a related concept but one that is economically inferior to lawful money because it allows payment in instruments that cannot be redeemed for gold or silver on demand, has been the form of money of exchange commonly used in the United States since 1933" and "The referenced Official Comment notes that the definition of money is not limited to legal tender under the U.C.C." and "The narrow view that money is limited to legal tender is rejected." "Thus, I conclude that the U.C.C. tends to validate the classical theoretical view of money... The typical form of such extensions of credit was drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon themselves (claims on the credit of the drawees) instead of disbursements of bullion, coin, or other forms of money. In transactions with third parties, these drafts and bills came to serve most of the ordinary functions of money."

So, use serves most transactions today in the discharge of 'contracted' debt, not to acquire property!

It is suggested first to acquire the agreement for the discharge via CAFV from your creditor first, then, proceed to discharge with a concise discharge process.

But understand, everything operates on a case by case basis and no One can guarantee any success. Under commercial law, 'they' have three days to refuse and return the instrument, otherwise the debt is discharged. If any other dishonor or injury occurs, you have right to a tort claim for breach of agreement, fraud, failure to give full disclosure, etc., as you have no other remedy.

It becomes necessary to study to show thy self approved, take the responsibility, gird yourself with the knowledge, step out on faith... do what the Secured Party Creditor has to do.

Since there is no money ALL YOU CAN DO IS DISCHARGE!!!

WHO SAYS YOU CAN'T HAVE WHAT YOU WANT? YES - YOU - CAN!

This may sound like a tall order and it is, however there is a book that can show you how to – when you work with it and apply the universal principals it teaches. I know because it has changed mine. I have been able to go full circle in my life from feeling like a victim to being the creator of my own destiny. The concepts set down in this book have also helped hundreds of my clients and students. All were willing to apply these concepts in their lives and discover the real causes of their behavior – and then to take the necessary action needed to change. Let me share the following story from my own life with you that will explain what I mean:

“All his life, Nick remembered the day when he was nine years old, alone with his father fishing and suddenly finding himself helplessly watching his father die of a heart attack – unable to do anything to prevent it. From that day on, Nick worried about the same thing happening to him. Nick envisioned himself writhing on the ground in agony, as his father had. He carried this image and fear of death with him for nearly forty years. One day he began clutching his chest and felt the searing pain shooting through him like a hot knife cutting butter. Then Nick was dead of a heart attack, just like his father at the same age as his father.”

What happened? Nick didn’t understand this one important principal: Thoughts are Things and they take form in your life as your experiences!

Once you learn about the power of your mind and how to harness this energy to create a richer, more fulfilling life you will be a ‘happy camper’. This can be accomplished by using the tools in my book to change the negative mental patterns you have created that prevent you from doing and getting what you want into positive mental patterns to create the kind of life you want right now.

Within the pages of this book, you will find the relative and spiritual wisdom of the ages in a form that is understandable and usable. You can and will learn how to use the “power of your mind” to change what you think, say and do. The tools and techniques presented DO WORK – I have used them in my own life and I have helped others use them in their lives for years VERY SUCCESSFULLY. As you come to understand how your thoughts and beliefs determine what you do with your life, you will reclaim your personal power to change. It does not matter what the issue is, there are universal principals that apply and techniques to use to turn it around.

Modifying your unwanted thought patterns and negative behavior to empower yourself to change by mastering techniques such as; journal writing, progressive relaxation, meditation, affirmations, mindscaping, visualization and guided imagery. As you do this, you will view you world differently, more optimistically, positively and began to Love The Life You Live. You will: learn techniques that will help you understand and use the Redemption Process; Create a Richer, Fuller, Relaxing and Joyful life; Develop a ‘way of thinking’ and accept your SOVEREIGNTY and YOUR FREEDOM; Gain the confidence you want and need to become a ‘Secured Party Creditor. And so more much more . . .

As Ralph Waldo Trine said, “There are many who are living far below their possibilities because they are continually handing over their individualities to others. Do you want to be a power in the world? Then be yourself. Be true to the highest within your soul and then allow yourself to be governed by no customs or conventionalities or arbitrary man-made rules that are not founded on principle”.

said, “There’s no place like home” and there isn’t! There’s nothing like sovereignty for a sovereign people! We have commercial remedy in the Redemption Process.

Will you continue to be conned by the confidence men and believe the Wizard’s words coming out from that box of ‘smoke and mirrors’ called the TV, or will you wise up like Dorothy did and “look behind the scenes” to recognize the scheme? Will you rise above the occasion and obtain the knowledge to become Secured Party Creditor, private banker and Sovereign to take your place among others who are above the government, instead of being that ‘debtor-slave on the plantation’ living your life in debt and servitude? Either the 'prisoner' or his/her family may mail stamps, or remit the full payment of $40.00 for a 6 issue -1 year prisoner subscription. We need communication from you as to change of address, status, release, etc. Prison subscriptions ends on release. TAKE NOTICE - Some prisoners have been denied the 'Bulletin' because it has been tagged 'CONTRABAND,' and/ or that "this newsletter disrupts order of facility!" Yes, Truth, facts and law could do just that! Are Prisons violating the First Amendment?
NOTE; Special programs, free book offers, etc. do not apply to those who are incarcerated, due to the bare costs of a prisoner subscription and the additional costs that we would have to expend. Our prayer is this 'paper' will help bring you awareness, knowledge, hope and encouragement, and a remedy and that someday you'll be released.

SORRY, WE CANNOT SEND 'FREE' SAMPLE COPIES TO THOSE WHO ARE INCARCERATED- PLEASE SEND STAMPS!

NOTE; As it applies to some prisoners who can only have a government check sent in to order books and materials, those checks are accepted at the 'Bulletin' for book orders! Please have those checks made out to The American's Bulletin. Thank you!

P.S. DO NOT STICK OR GLUE 'POSTAGE STAMPS' TO PAPER SHEET THAT CANNOT BE REMOVED AND USED!
